HIMMLER SLAUGHTERS REGIMENTS

LONDON, July 22 (INS)—The London Evening Standard quoted reports from Malmoe, Sweden, today, which said Gestapo Chief Heinrich Himmler had ordered several regiments shot to the last man. Many highly placed officers were among those shot. Berlin was represented as an armed camp with "SS" men everywhere and machine-guns at most downtown corners and in public buildings. Nervousness of Berliners was increased by reports of mutiny among western front army units.

BITTER FIGHTING REPORTED

LONDON, July 22 (INS)—Fighting raged through areas in southern Germany where army units have rebelled, the London News of the World reported tonight in a Madrid dispatch.

A Reuter's dispatch from Zurich said commanding officers at Munich, Stuttgart, Schweinfurt, Bremen, Linz "and possibly elsewhere" had mutinied.

LONDON, July 22 (INS)—The German underground Radio Atlantic reported today, according to the Moscow radio, that a new German government composed of military leaders was in control of certain areas of the Reich in which all Nazis were arrested.

The report said that the government was formed by Field Marshal Wilhelm Keitel, Field Marshal Walther von Brauchitsch, Field Marshal Feodor von Bock, Gen. Franz Halder and other senior officers. Four airplanes were said to be standing by, loaded with enough gas for flights of 6000 miles, to take Hitler and his colleagues out of Germany.

State of Siege in Reich, Hitler Issues New Order

MARSHAL VON BRAUCHITSCH
Reported Slain

LONDON, July 22 (AP)—A welter of reports indicated Germany was in a virtual state of siege today, ridden with rumors and with everyone from topflight generals down a suspect, as the Nazis attempted to stamp out all opposition in a vengeful purge.

Through Switzerland came an unconfirmed report that the Gestapo may have slaughtered some of the most illustrious figures in the army, all long-time foes of the Nazi regime.

These were said to include Field Marshals Walther von Brauchitsch, Karl Gerd von Rundstet, Sigmund Wilhelm List and Fritz Erich von Mannstein—none of whom has been heard from since Berlin announced two days ago that Hitler had narrowly escaped assassination.

Hitler issued an order of the day to German troops today that asserted the attempted coup d'etat by "a small circle of unscrupulous officers" had been crushed. Broadcast by a German news agency, the order declared:

"Soldiers of the army:

"A small circle of unscrupulous officers has made an attempt to murder me and the general staff and to seize power in the state.

"Providence caused the attempt to miscarry.

"By immediate and vigorous action by loyal officers and men of the Army at home the traitor clique was wiped out or arrested in the matter of a few hours.

"I expected nothing else.

"I know that, as hitherto, you will fight with exemplary obedience and loyalty until victory is ours in spite of all."

UNREST IN NAVY

Two reports, wholly unconfirmed, indicated unrest in the German navy as well as the army.

Radio France in Algiers quoted reports from Basel that it was generally believed naval units at Kiel and Stettin had rebelled.

The Brazzaville radio reported unrest among naval units in Norwegian ports and said an organization called the Fraternal Association of All German Sailors appeared to be behind the movement.

A Madrid dispatch said one report from a German embassy source there indicated certain army elements had revolted in southern Germany and fighting was continuing.

Rebels Seen Safe From Himmler

NEW YORK, July 22 (INS)—The British radio today quoted a report by its Stockholm correspondent saying that the leaders of the "military revolt" against the Nazi government "are for the moment out of reach of Himmler and his agents," and "are in constant contact with their followers on the fronts in the east, Italy and in Normandy."

U. S. Bombers Slam Ploesti

LONDON, July 22 (AP)—Between 500 and 750 American heavy bombers from Italian bases attacked the Ploesti oil area of Romania today, after night bombers had struck into Czechoslovakia and Germany.

The U. S. 15th Air Force heavies were escorted by Mustangs and Lightnings in the eleventh blow of the war by Mediterranean-based planes against Hitler's oil resources in the Ploesti area. A number of enemy fighters were met and flak was intense, the Allied announcement said.

Nazi Captives' Views on Hitler

By ROGER D. GREENE

CAEN, France, July 22 (AP)—Newly captured German prisoners, commenting on the attempted assassination of Hitler, said today they long had known of a bitter quarrel between the Fuehrer and the German high command.

"The generals want to get Hitler out and make a quick end of the war," said Cpl. Werner, 19, of Munster, a member of an elite Nazi division. He was captured at 7 p. m. yesterday near Cagny.

"Of course, the whole thing may be a fake to whip up sympathy of the German people for Hitler. Many of our people are sick to death of the war, but when they hear the leader narrowly escape death they say, 'What a terrible thing to attack our poor dear Fuehrer.'"

Asked how he felt personally about Hitler, Werner stiffened his shoulders and a fanatical gleam entered his eyes.

PIN HOPE ON HITLER

"I put everything on him," he said. "I know things look bad for us, but I still think the Fuehrer has some secret great weapon that will win the war for Germany."

He added the German people were too afraid of the Gestapo to voice their feelings.

Commenting on the announcement that Heinrich Himmler had taken control of the home armies of Germany, the prisoner said, "I've got to admit I don't think much of Himmler. He's a butcher. If anybody steps out of line it's on the wall—the;'ll be shot."

Some of the prisoners have not heard the news, but they were eager to discuss it when I met them trudging back along the muddy road near the front to the prisoner-of-war cages.

"If Hitler were assassinated it would be a bad blow for Germany, but Goering would immediately take over," said Karl Eighhsen, a lanky youth who once served as Hitler's bodyguard and fought on the Russian front.

Believe Hitler To Flee Berlin

By LEON PEARSON

WASHINGTON, July 22 (INS)—The possibility that Hitler and Goering may be planning to escape from Germany like rats from a sinking ship was seen today by a high-ranking military official in Washington as the real meaning behind the sensational developments in Germany.

This officer, who is closely associated with the combined chiefs of staff, predicted the German people may not hear from Hitler or Goering again.

He pointed out that Hitler has handed Germany over to Himmler, and Goering, though always jealous of his command of the Luftwaffe, has appointed another supreme commander (Col. Gen. Stumpf), and he and Hitler have said, "You can expect to get orders from someone else."

"I wouldn't be surprised," declared this military expert, "if you did not hear of Hitler or Goering again as leaders of Germany. They have made it awfully easy for themselves to get out of the country several days or perhaps weeks before the country collapses, leaving Himmler, who likes shedding blod, to deal with the situation as best he can."

While Turkish reports said Hitler was arrested or under protective custody, this officer's view seemed to be strengthened by a broadcast from the clandestine German radio, "Atlantic," which declared a four-motored transport plane, able to fly 10,000 miles, was standing by at a secret air base in Germany for Hitler's use.

On July 30, 1943, President Roosevelt declared:

"One day Hitler and his gang and Tojo and his gang will be trying to escape from their countries. I find it difficult to believe any neutral country would give asylum to any of them.

"I can only say that the government of the United States would regard the action by a neutral government in affording asylum to Axis leaders or their tools as inconsistent with the principles for which the United Nations are fighting."

Dr. Ley Rants at Reds, 'Fools'

LONDON, July 22 (INS)—Dr. Robert Ley, Nazi leader of the labor front, asserted today "a mine of the heaviest type imported from Britain was used in the attempt to kill Hitler."

In a broadcast message from an armaments works, Ley said he had received detailed information on how the attempt on Hitler's life was made.

"A Jew of Moscow ordered it," Ley said concerning the bomb, and England and her lords supplied it.

He accused German "counts and noblemen," whom he termed "blue-blooded swine," of planting it.

Ley branded the German noblemen as "fools, idots, criminals and murderous reactionaries."

"You see the reaction of Bolshevism arm in arm," he said. "Stalin and the German counts are all pals.

"The Fuehrer gave them everything they had a right to ask for and they thanked him with bombs, murder and ingratitude."

Ley declared that every German would be ashamed to be in the same class as the "murderers."

"These criminals," he said, "are paid by Jews. They are traitors, cowardly dogs with international connections."

In a reference to Count Klaus von Stauffenberg, named as the man who placed the bomb, Ley asserted that his wife was a Polish-born sister-in-law of a Russian Bolshevist.

"Here you have an international plot in a nutshell," he said.

"These are Germany's liberators. We demand our revolution should do what it has so far failed to do—these creatures must be exterminated."

Ley then told his audience:

"On your behalf I ask the Almighty to preserve Adolf Hitler for us as you have preserved him so far.

"Protect him. Hold your strong hand over him.

"Inflict us with whatever you like. Send us work, burdens, bombs, shells—all this we will bear, no matter how hard it may be.

"But the one thing we ask You—preserve us Adolf Hitler.

Guam Big Port Near Capture

PEARL HARBOR, July 22 (AP)—Liberation of Guam was pushed ahead of schedule today by steadily reinforced Yanks swarming off ships. They threatened to pinch off and quickly capture Port Apra, core of Guam's defense system on the west coast.

From mile-long beachheads easily won north and south of the fine harbor, marines and soldiers moved inland to scale heights dominating its rear.

Communiques and war correspondent eyewitness reports told of swift progress and light casualties.

BLASTED THEM OUT

John R. Henry, representing the combined Allied press, reported from a flagship at Guam that all Japs and shore defenses were gouged out of the landing areas by some of the 10,000 tons of explosives spread over the island through 17 straight days by warships and planes.

"We simply blasted the Japs to hell out of there and up into the trees," said Adm. Richard W. Conolly, commanding operations.

The Yanks encountered stiffening resistance inland. But they had tanks to lead them, artillery at their backs. Battleships, cruisers and destroyers held unchallenged command of the seas. American planes apparently monopolized the skies, for Adm. Nimitz' communiques made no mention of the enemy airforce.

Henry characterized the Guam undertaking as the smoothest amphibious operation of the Pacific war. Less than four hours after the landings, the beaches "were crammed with incoming necessities of warfare like ammunition, rations, water, medical supples and gasoline."

JAP VERSION

The Toyko radio said today that heavy fighting was continuing between Japanese at Omiyajima and enemy forces "who landed yesterday and suffered heavy losses."

The broadcast, a follow-up of one last night in which the Japanese made their first acknowledgement that American forces had landed on the island, carried the text of an imperial headquarters announcement which said briefly.

"On the morning of July 21 about two enemy divisions started landing at Akashi bay on the western shore and on Showa bay of Guam. Our forces in that area intercepted them and are engaged in fierce fighting."

GUAM—Americans who landed on Guam, Yank-owned Pacific island captured by Japan early in the war, were plunging inland today from the vicinities of Asan and Agat in what appears to be an attempt to pinch off the harbor of Apra.

Reds 90 Miles From Warsaw

By DANIEL DE LUCE

MOSCOW, July 22 (AP)—Red Army tank and infantry forces, making a supreme bid for Warsaw, rolled back German rearguards today on a jagged 200-mile battle line, and front dispatches said some Soviet forces were only 90 miles from the Polish capital.

At the same time the German position in the Baltics grew worse hourly, as Col. Gen. Ivan I. Maslennikov's troops captured Ostrov, cleared 17 miles of the Ostrov-Pskov railway and left Pskov, 35 miles north of Ostrov, in an untenable salient.

Tishina, seven miles from Latvia's northeastern boundary, was occupied.

The Red tide poured through dozens of breaches in the makeshift German line onto the Polish plains.

The battle for Warsaw developed from these Giant thrusts by Marshal Rokossovsky's apparently inexhaustible offensive:

After cutting the Bialystok-Brest Litovsk railway at Czeremcha, 95 airline miles northeast of Warshaw, two days ago, Soviet units now were reported to have advanced at least five miles.

Other Red army forces were forging a ring of steel around Brest Litovsk.

Leaving the western Bug nine or more miles behind, the Red Army veterans routed the Germans from Sawin, 36 miles east of Lublin, and outflanked the German strongpoint of Chelm, 10 miles away.

German - Finnish forces were ousted from more than 20 settlements as the Karelian offensive was renewed.

The long-static sector south of Tarnopol was the scene of another Soviet push which reached Buczacz, northeast of the mountain passes into Hungary.

The Moscow communique told of continued successes in the assault on tottering Lwow.

Allied Advance Nears Florence

ROME, July 22 (AP)—Fifth and Eighth Army troops closed in on Florence from three directions today with advance infantry 14 miles from the historic city's edge.

In this closest thrust, the Fifth Army captured three near-by towns.

On the west coast American patrols probing the enemy's new defenses in the Arno valley reached a point within four miles of Pisa. Artillery duels raged between large concentrations of German guns on high ground north of the river and the Fifth Army's long-range guns.

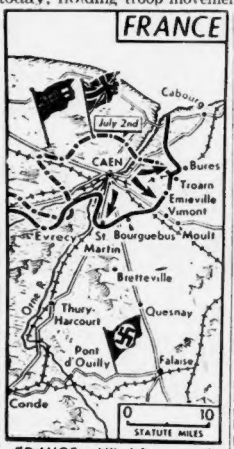
Normandy Mud Slows Up Allies

By WES GALLAGHER

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS, July 22 (AP)—Continuing rains mired the big Allied armies in the mud of France today, holding troop movements to a minimum everywhere, supreme headquarters announced, but the Germans threw in small-scale, local attacks in the last 24 hours that cost them 14 tanks destroyed.



FRANCE—Allied forces in the Caen sector were battling a fierce German counter-attack near St. Martin today . . . while heavy fighting continued in the Troarn area. Arrows locate Allied drives.

Headquarters identified Gen. Paul Hausser, veteran of the German invasion of France and of the Balkan-Russian and Italian campaigns, as the commander of the Seventh German army "opposing the American force." It did not reveal whether other Nazi forces than the Seventh army were pitted against the doughboys.

There were no air operations fom Britain today due to weather.

The morning communique, only five words long, said simply "there is nothing to report."

The only change reported was the loss of Esquay, southwest of Caen between the Orne and Odon rivers.

In the lull the supreme command checked battle reports and found that conflicting field dispatches had led to some erroneous beliefs which were passed on to press conferences.

The re-checks showed the Germans still held Maltot between the Orne and Odon, that it is not clear whether St. Martin de Fontenay is in Allied or German hands, that Noyers still is held by the Germans as is nearby Monts, and that the Germans still are astride the Bayeux-St. Lo road at Berigny.

2 U. S. Subs Lost; 1 Was Gold Runner

WASHINGTON, July 22 (AP)—Loss of two U. S. submarines—the Trout of Philippine fame and the Tullibee—was announced today by the Navy.

The Trout, in the last days before the fall of the Philippines, slipped past Japanese shore batteries under cover of darkness to carry out vast amounts of gold and other valuables of the Philippine government, companies and individuals.

Both submarines are listed as overdue from patrol and presumed lost with their crews of about 65 officers and men each.

The losses bring to 27 the number of American submarines lost since the war started.

All officers and men of the Trout were awarded the Silver Star by the Army for their daring operations in the Philippines early in 1942 when the submarine slipped into Corregidor to deliver badly needed aircraft ammunition before that fortress fell to the Japs. The Trout at that time was commanded by Com. Frank Wesley Fenno, Jr.

At the time of her loss her skipper was Lt. Com. Albert H. Clark, listed as missing in action. His wife, Mrs. Mary Crane Clark, lives at Orinda, Cal.

The Tullibee was one of the newer submarines, commissioned in February, 1943, and was under the command of Com. Charles F. Brindupke, whose wife, Mrs. Ann R. Brindupke, lives in Annapolis, Md.

The Trout was commissioned in November, 1940.

She was credited at the time her crew was awarded the Presidential unit citation is May, 1943, with having destroyed a total of 43,200 tons of enemy shipping and damaging 31,500 additional tons, including an aircraft carrier.

The total amount of gold, silver and negotiable securities carried out of Corregidor by the Trout never has been disclosed. It included vast amounts of the Philippine Commonwealth gathered by High Comm. Francis B. Sayre.

Also included in the sums were money and securities belonging to banks, mines and residents of the Philippines.

Loss of the two submarines raised to 171 the number of American Naval craft lost since the war started.

The Navy said Fenno, Trout commander during early days of the war, now has another command at sea.

2 Navy Fliers Killed

PHILADELPHIA, July 22 (INS)—The Navy Department announced that two Navy fliers were killed when their training plane crashed near Big Stone Beach, west of Lewes, Del., and about 10 miles inland from Delaware Bay.

CIO Rout Major Point In Victory of Truman

By WILLIAM K. HUTCHINSON

CHICAGO, July 22 (INS)—President Roosevelt has Sen. Harry S. Truman, of Missouri, as a running-mate today to seek a fourth term against the Republican ticket of Dewey and Bricker in the first wartime presidential campaign since Abraham Lincoln's era.

Truman gained the vice-presidential nomination at the Democratic convention in an unprecedented manner, by actually winning after the second roll-call was completed.

There was one major significance to Truman's victory. It marked the utter rout of the CIO labor leaders who attempted to step into the Democratic party and control the convention. Defeat of the CIO leaders may have repercussions in the election, but regular party chieftains were unconcerned, declaring the labor groups would have to support Roosevelt because they had nowhere else to go.

TRUMAN IS ELATED

Truman's smashing success marked the political demise of Vice President Henry Agard Wallace, idealist and humanitarian. The regular Democrats made it plain there was no place for Wallace in their scheme of politics.

Truman was elated by his victory. His first remark was: "I'm about as dizzy as a pet coon. I am very happy." He said he would resign as chairman of the Senate war fraud investigating committee and added:

"I shall do what the commander-in-chief wants me to do."

Monday morning political quarterbacks were trying to explain Wallace's defeat.

On the first ballot, Wallace had 429½ while Truman had 319½. At the end of the second roll call, Wallace had 400¼ while Truman had 409 but seven states had passed. When these seven voted, Wallace had 473 and Truman 479. Then Sen. John H. Bankhead, of Alabama, withdrew and that state gave Truman 22 more votes for a total of 501. That seemed to finish the roll call for certain.

MAINE LEADS LANDSLIDE

But the chairman of the Maine delegation announced that his state would like to change its vote. He did so, changing the original tally of four votes for Wallace and six for Truman to one for Wallace and nine for Truman. That left the totals: Wallace 470 and Truman 504.

Maine's action was like a thunderbolt preceding a cloudburst. Perhaps it really was the "two lights in Boston tower" because an avalanche of switches followed.

The final toll was Truman, 1074, Wallace 66, Gov. Prentice Cooper, of Tennessee, 26; William O. Douglas, of Connecticut, four and six delegates were recorded absent.

THREE THINGS HAPPENED

This contest between Wallace and Truman might have ended in favor of the New Dealers and CIO leaders Sidney Hillman and Philip Murray. But three things happened in the 24 hours before the final ballot.

Wallace in seconding the nomination of Mr. Roosevelt demanded repeal of the poll tax. Many observers believe he doomed his cause with that remark. The Chicago CIO packing of the convention hall with students and workers shouting in Wallace's behalf angered many delegates.

Second, the crowd yesterday, again largely recruited from Chicago Left Wing students and workers, booed Mayor Edward J. Kelley, one beloved throughout the party, when he tried to second the nomination of Sen. Scott Lucas of Illinois. This further angered many delegates.

The final blow to Wallace may well have been a speech by Richard Frankensteen, Detroit CIO leader, "who denounced Democratic "city bosses" and pleaded with delegates from all other places to join the Wallace banner.

IT'S NEW—Mrs. Claude Pepper, wife of the Florida solon, turns up at the convention wearing a unique blouse . . . one bearing prints of all the U. S. military medals.

Johnston Gives Dewey Red Data

PAWLING, N. Y., July 22 (AP)—The restful atmosphere of his farm claimed Gov. Thomas E. Dewey again today after a busy week climaxed by a lengthy discussion of conditions in Russia with Eric A. Johnston, president of the United States Chamber of commerce.

Johnston, Dewey's dinner guest at the Executive Mansion in Albany last night, returned July 13 from Russia where he talked with Premier Stalin, visited factories and was a front-line observer of the Russian army action.

He said he told the Republican presidential nominee that the United States had great trade opportunities with the Soviet Union but granting of long-term credit to Russia will be essential. Johnston explained he meant 15 to 30-year credit.

Mass. Delegates Back Tomorrow

CHICAGO, July 22 — Credited with casting the deciding votes in the nomination of Sen. Harry S. Truman for vice-president, the Massachusetts delegation today was on a round of harmony parleys prior to tonight's departure for home.

Present plans call for a two-hour stopover tomorrow morning at Albany so delegates may attend church. They are due late in the afternoon in Boston.

It was the Massachusetts delegation, which switched en masse, which put Truman's total at the time over the necessary majority, with the rest of New England playing an important role in the defeat of New Dealer Henry Wallace.

CIO Will Back Ticket to Limit

CHICAGO, July 22 (AP)—The CIO Political Action Committee minimized a setback in the Democratic convention today by casting its full strength behind the Roosevelt-Truman ticket.

Wielding influence without precedent in a national convention, the CIO leaders nevertheless fell short of their goal—renomination of Henry A. Wallace, their choice for the vice presidential spot and on whom they refused to trade. They spurned the blandishments of the best known names in the Democratic organization to uphold that stand.

Even before Sen. Harry S. Truman's nomination was official, Sidney Hillman, Political Action chairman, issued his statement of confidence in the Missourian.

AFL leaders went down the line for Truman, although formally undeclared.

Said Hillman: Support of Wallace "did not carry with it opposition to another candidate whom the convention might select."

Democrats' Race Plank 'a Splinter'

NEW YORK, July 22 (AP) — The National Association for Advancement of Colored People says the part of the Democratic platform concerning Negroes could be "best characterized as a splinter" rather than a plank.

"Badgered by professional bigots from the south and dictated to by northern political machines more interested in votes than principle, the Democratic mountain labored and brought forth a mouse of evasion," the association said in a statement.

Neither the Republican nor Democratic platform on the Negro "is satisfactory to intelligent Negroes," the statement added.

Truman's Mother To Work for Him

KANSAS CITY, Mo., July 22 (INS)—Mrs. Martha E. Truman's vigil at the radio was ended today as she made plans for even more important work in the coming three months.

Mrs. Truman is the 91 year-old mother of the Democratic candidate for the vice-presidency, and for hours yesterday she didn't budge from her radio as she listened to the proceedings at the Chicago convention. She even took her meals near the set so she wouldn't miss any of the balloting.

Elated by her son's victory, Mrs. Truman said she would do "plenty of campaigning for Harry." Earlier she had wanted him to remain in the Senate "where he could do more good."

Truman Fails to See Wallace in Chicago

CHICAGO, July 22 (INS)—Sen. Harry S. Truman, Democratic vice-presidential candidate, today made public a telegram from President Roosevelt congratulating him upon his victory.

"I send you my heartiest congratulations on your victory," the President wired. "I am of course very happy to have you run with me. Let me know your plans. I shall see you soon."

He did not personally meet Vice-President Wallace, who had sent him a telegram of congratulations.

"I understand the Vice-President left or I should have called on him," said Truman. "He is still Vice-President and I like him. The only thing that hurt me was that I had to defeat him."

Up most of the night, Truman appeared dapper and cheerful early today.

Congratulations poured in by long distance telephone. One which pleased him was from Sen. Homer Ferguson, Michigan Republican, who is a member of the Senate Truman committee. Truman planned to leave for Kansas City today.

Truman, who said after his nomination that he would promptly resign as chairman of the Truman war investigating committee, today postponed his resignation until the Senate reconvenes August 1.

Truman replied to Mr. Roosevelt's telegram of congratuation as follows:

"Thank you Mr. President. I am happy to be your running mate. Will be in Missouri until Aug. 1, our primay day. I am at your command and want to see you soon."

Truman also made public the telegram received from Vice-President Wallace. It read:

"Congratulations upon your enlarged opportunity to help the President and the people. Both of us will do our maximum for Roosevelt and what Roosevelt stands for."

Milton Airman Missing in Crash

First Naval District today announced two men, one a Milton resident, were missing as a result of two planes colliding in air off Manomet Beach, Wednesday night.

The missing men were identified as ARM 3c Herbert W. Burke, son of Mrs. Dorothy Burke of Ferncroft rd., Milton, and Ens. Leo H. Reimers, USNR, of Yamhill, Oregon.

According to the Navy, the plane touched wings and one crashed into the sea. The other plane succeeded in reaching Otis Field on Cape Cod.

Dragging operations were underway today to locate the plane which sank.

Abp. Spellman Greeted by Pope

VATICAN CITY, July 2—Archbishop Spellman of New York was received in audience by Pope Pius XII today in His Holiness' private apartment at the Vatican.

Earlier, the archbishop celebrated mass in St. Peter's Basilica.

The archbishop plans to visit Italian war fronts and military hospitals and will offer mass at military cemeteries at Salerno, Cassino and Anzio.

Mrs. Wallace Gallant in Defeat

By JANE COCHRAN

Mrs. Wallace

CHICAGO, July 22 (INS) — Democrats, striving today to heal the wounds inflicted by the bitter Truman-Wallace fight, today had the whole-hearted cooperation of the two ladies most concerned—Mrs. Harry S. Truman and the wife of the defeated candidate, Mrs. Henry A. Wallace.

Whatever her private disappointment may be, shy, charming Mrs. Wallace kept a calm front and asserted only that the convention was an "exciting one and a fair one."

Mrs. Truman, naturally exuberant over a victory which she confessed she'd only started considering a week ago, was equally gracious.

"We're thrilled at the unexpected honor this convention has given us," said the wife of the vice-presidential nominee. "We will do our best to be worthy of that confidence."

Walpole Ready to Honor War Ace Capt. Thornell

"I'll probably be home before you get this letter," Capt. John F. Thornell, Jr., of Walpole and the outstanding air ace of Massachusetts, wrote his mother in a letter received today. Mrs. Thornell disclosed the thrilling news at the family home in Pleasant st., as proud residents of the town prepared for their hero's imminent arrival.

The letter was mailed in England but gave no details as to the "Bay State Buzz Saw's" possible arrival time.

The 23-year-old flyer, credited with downing 25¼ Nazi planes, will be honored by a public celebration including a parade and a dinner dance party in Blackburn Memorial hall.

LEGION PLANS PROGRAM

The welcome home program for Johnny has been arranged by the Thomas H. Crowley American Legion post and will start off with a small official dinner at the Layfayette House, Wrentham.

Among those who will be thrilled at his arrival, in addition to his parents, Mr. and Mrs. John F. Thornell, Sr., of Pleasant st., East Walpole, will be his small niece, Patty Ann McDavitt, for whom he named his P-51 Mustang, the "Patty Ann," in which he flew to glory.

Thornell holds the Distinguished Flying Cross with Oak Leaf Cluster, the Air Medal with three Oak Leaf Clusters, and early this month was awarded the Silver Star for destroying two of seven German fighters which were harassing a Fortress, and driving off the others.

BAGGED TWO ON BIRTHDAY

On one other occasion—his 23rd birthday, last April 19—he also bagged a pair of Nazi planes, but his biggest day was last May 8, when the guns of his Mustang fighter sent three German craft to the ground in flames.

A graduate of Norfolk County Agricultural School, he joined the Army on July 1, 1940, received his wings early last year and went overseas a year ago this month.

Parolee Confesses 50 Boston Breaks

Arrested in the Fisher Hill section of Brookline, a 43-year-old State Prison parolee admitted to Brookline police that he had broken into more than 50 homes in Boston suburbs in the past few months and stolen cash, jewelry and other property valued at more than $10,000.

Included among the breaks to which the man admitted under questioning by Capt. John Mahoney was one in the Selkirk rd., Brighton, home of Judge Jennie Loitman Barron of the Boston municipal court last month.

Mahony, describing the man as "wiry and catlike," said he robbed homes as the victims slept and that he worked between midnight and 6 o'clock in breaks in Brookline, Arlington, Belmont, Brighton, Newton and Watertown.

After his arrest police visited his Back Bay apartment and recovered loot valued at more than $5000.

He was arrested by Sgt. James D. Casey and Patrolman John Hunt, who were assigned to catch the "phantom" burglar after numerous recent breaks in Brookline.

Hold Robber Caught by Girls

In the aftermath of a chase and capture by three women, Jacob Kaplan, 46, of Columbia st., Cambridge, today was found guilty of assault and battery and breaking and entering and larceny by Judge Frank D. Crowley in Chelsea district court.

Sentence was deferred while police sought to determine if Kaplan could be returned to Bridgewater State Farm, where he recently was discharged after serving nearly 20 years.

Kaplan was surprised in the apartment of Mrs. Mary Glazer, 50, of Chestnut st., Chelsea, allegedly in the act of taking $36 in cash and diamonds valued at $1500.

According to testimony, Kaplan fled the house after throwing Mrs. Glazer behind a kitchen stove. Her screams attracted her daughter, Mary, and her daughter-in-law, Mrs. May Suckney, who knocked Kaplan to the ground after a two-block chase and held him until police arrived.

Dock Holdup Nets $27,000

WEEHAWKEN, N. J. (INS)—Covering up the license plates of their car as a getway precaution, three armed bandits held up the paymaster at pier K, Weehawkeen, and escaped with $27,000 payroll. The wharf district was thronged with stevedores and merchant seamen busy with wartime shipping. The bandit car, a Buick sedan, whirled up to the pier. Three men dressed as longshoremen alighted and disarmed a guard.

Sick Mother, Facing Eviction, Holds Fort

Highly nervous and sickened by an eviction order from her Rindge ave., Cambridge home, Mrs. Blanche Couture, 23-year-old mother of two small children and wife of a soldier overseas, declared today she would not obey the orler.

She said Army relief officials had advised her to stay at the house because of her illness and asked to be notified at once if any effort was made to force her from the building.

Red Cross officials also promised to help her find a new home as soon as possible.

Mrs. Couture and her elderly mother previously had determined to "hold the fort" in the face of an order of eviction today.

Their action is based on the advice of two servicemen, Ens. Stanley Slesinger of Durham, N. C., and Sgt. Stanley Mikelk of Hardwick, both of whom have just returned here after participating in the Normandy invasion. The pair offered their aid and financial assistance after reading of the mother's plight in the Boston American.

"We're doing this for ourselves and for all servicemen who have wives and children," Slesinger declared. "There's still such a thing as human decency. That's what we're fighting for."

Two neighbors also have offered the young mother the use of their homes and storage space.

Fire Perils 3 In Jamaica Plain

Fire which started in a rubbish pile in the backyard today caused $2500 damage to a two-family house in Union ave., Jamaica Plain, and drove two women and a child to the street.

Mrs. Rita Keough, first-floor occupant, carried her son Billy, 2, to safety through smoke-filled corridors. Mrs. Mary Brinkman, second floor, dashed to safety after a frantic search through the house for two sons she thought were indoors.

The boys, John, 5, and Edward, 3, were found in the street watching the firemen fight the blaze.

SAN DIEGO, Cal., July 22 (AP)—When the missing Marine Maj. Gregory Boyington's famed black sheep squadron returns to the Pacific wars, Midnite, a black ram, is going along.

Not a single serious accident has happened since Midnite joined the squadron at Santa Barbara where the fliers have been training.

McGrath Case Man's Alibi Hit

Evidence gathered in three days of investigation by State Police Capt. Joseph L. Ferrari in the murder of little Frances McGrath was discussed today in a conference of probers with Dist.-Atty. Edmund R. Dewing at Dedham courthouse.

The conference ended after two hours with Dewing saying no new developments could be expected.

Of particular interest to the investigators was evidence which they claimed might break down the alibi of one suspect in the case.

The man, a summer resident of Scituate, had insisted under questioning that he had not left his home on the night of June 10 when the little girl dropped from sight and his claim was supported by several other persons, investigators said.

Now, however, investigators claim they have witnesses who are willing to say they saw the suspect in his auto that night at a section of Scituate the little girl ordinarily would use to reach her summer home at Peggoty Beach.

Other witnesses are understood to have told the probers they saw the man, who has a record of sex offenses, in his auto in other parts of Scituate the same night.

The investigators refused to say whether their meeting at the courthouse today was concerned with the announcement of Atty. John B. Mahar, counsel for Mrs. Bertha Pina, held in $25,000, charged with being an accessory after the fact in the murder, that he would seek lower bail for her.

John Lopes, 55, Scituate war worker, free on $25,000 bail on the same charge as Mrs. Pina, remained at his home today ready to co-operate with investigators in the new probe of the slaying.

New Jap Cabinet Kotowed To 3 Groups, Says Writer

By RUSSELL BRINES

Associated Press War Editor. (Formerly an Associated Press Correspondent in Tokyo).

Japan's new cabinet leaves the army in governmental control after apparent concessions to three strong opposition groups.

Premier Gen. Kuniaki Koiso's government indicates the repudiation of Ex-Premier Hideki Tojo's one-man dictatorship and a return to rule by a militarist group.

Power remains in the hands of the Kwangtung or Manchuria clique of the army. That element, which spawned Tojo, has ruled as a group, largely anonymously, for the past seven years. Koiso and his war minister, Field Marshal Gen. Sugiyama, belong to it.

The change will have little effect on the man in the street, whose regimented life of sacrifice will continue.

The controversy, long smouldering, was inflamed by recent defeats.

Gen. Koiso, a stern-minded general of the Tojo pattern, consulted a navy representative, Adm. Mitsumasa Yonai, before forming the cabinet, a concession rare in recent years. Yonai also became navy minister.

Ginjiro Fujiwara, Japan's "paper king," was named munitions minister, as a representative of the industrialists.

The industrialists also kept in power the holdover finance minister, Sataro Ishiwata.

Marion Lovett Bride Today Of Cpl. William F. Reardon

Marion Terese Lovett, daughter of Lt. Com. and Mrs. George J. Lovett of Garfield st., Cambridge, today became the bride of Cpl. William Francis Reardon, U. S. A., son of Mrs. William F. Reardon of Lowell st., Somerville, at a nuptial mass in St. Peter's Church, Cambridge.

Rev. Daniel F. McCarthy of St. Paul's Church, Dorchester, cousin of the bride, performed the ceremony. Miss Margaret Lovett, the bride's sister, was maid of honor and Lt. George J. Lovett, Jr., U. S. N. R., was best man.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. Ushers were Ens. John F. Lovett, USNR, and Ens. Vincent D. Lovett, USNR, brothers of the bride; Paul Reardon of Medford and William Walsh of Arlington. Miss Dorothy Horan of Providence, cousin of the bride, was soloist.

The bride wore a satin gown with long train and a tulle veil caught to a Juliet cap of pearls. She carried white roses. Her sister wore an ice-blue gown of satin and organza.

Cpl. Reardon, attached to the Americal Division, recently returned home after two years' service in the South Pacific.

dispatches quoted the Moscow radio as saying that German sailors in northern Norway mutinied and refused to go to sea in ships repaired in Oslo.

(The Norwegian Telegraph Agency, according to INS, said German police in Norway had been ordered to stand by for any emergency and special restrictions were placed on troops.

KESSELRING ARRESTED?

(In New York the Office of War Information quoted the Geneva newspaper La Suisse as reporting Field Marshal Gen. Kesselring, German commander in Italy and rival of Marshal Rommel, was rumored to have been arrested on suspicion of complicity in the plot against Hitler, going with two generals and two colonels of his staff. Kesselring was reported to have attended a meeting between Hitler and Mussolini Thursday, with his arrest following.)

An NBC broadcast in London said Rommel had been forced to change two armored division commanders in Normandy for "political reasons." The two divisional generals were replaced, before the Thursday attempt on Hitler's life, by "two juvenile political colonels, both under 33, who have a record of fanatical Nazi loyalty," the broadcast said.

A dispatch clearing through Berlin censorship to Der Bund at Bern, Switzerland said any effort at revolt could be considered to have collapsed. Government quarters in the German capital were blocked off Friday for many hours "by troops of the army and the armed SS, presumably to carry out purge measures," the dispatch said.

GUARD GERMANS IN SWEDEN

A welter of rumors concerning the attempted coup persisted, and reliable information was difficult to obtain through the cloak of Nazi secrecy.

Indicative of this, 12 Germans reached Stockholm by plane from Berlin today, but were put under close watch by two Gestapo men attached to the German legation. The Germans avoided questioning by newspapermen.

Word emerged through Sweden of mass arrests in Berlin, with large forces of SS troops ringing the capital and patrolling the streets in armored cars.

While the Nazis, through various broadcasts, claimed to have suppressed the revolt with at least two of the alleged ringleaders dead—Col. Gen. Ludwig Beck, former chief of the general staff, and Count Von Stauffenberg, accused by Hitler of placing the bomb—a voice on the Frankfurt radio wave length, purporting to be that of an officer in the Wehrmacht, announced that "action is continuing."

URGES RESISTANCE

The speaker urged fellow officers to offer continued armed resistance to Himmler's Gestapo. Identifying the man who paid with his life for planting the bomb as Col. Count Claus von Stauffenberg, the broadcaster declared:

"Let Hitler know this much for certain—there is more than one Stauffenberg. Stauffenbergs are here in the thousands."

Whether the speaker actually was broadcasting from Frankfurt or from an underground station posing as Frankfurt was uncertain, but the Associated Press listener in London said it sounded authentic.

Propaganda Minister Goebbels put out a story last night that insurgent generals attempted to grab vital lines of communication at the height of the plot—including lines direct to the front—and troops actually marched on government buildings in Berlin under false orders. According to Goebbels, the intervention of Hitler himself was necessary to calm the crisis.

NEW STEPS TAKEN

The whole German press this morning, a Berlin broadcast said, carried stories declaring steps were being taken so that such an "attempt on Hitler's life) of July 20 will in the future be an impossibility."

And in a succinct warning to the strife-ridden Reich, Hitler's own Voelkischer Beobachter asserted that Himmler's appointment as commander in chief of home front forces "guarantees that this task will be accomplished."

Red Writer Sees Huge Reich Plot

MOSCOW, July 22 (AP)—Tass Commentator Nikolai Budrov declared in Izvestia today the attack on Hitler did not represent an isolated incident but was "one link in a huge military plot by generals and officers."

This explanation was accepted by the Russians who for several weeks have been hearing from captured high German commanders of the antagonism against Hitler.

Lt. Gen. Edmund Hofmeister's statement to the Red army command on July 19 that the old German generals were dissatisfied with Hitler's strategy in refusing to retreat may be the tip off to the situation.

"From Hitler's comments," said the Tass writer, "The plot embraved considerably wider circles than Hitler attempted to prove.

"Reports prove that events in Germany have assumed a major crises. It is obvious the Germans of today lives under a bursting political crisis."

Prisoners

against continuing the war. In the old days when we were winning everything Hitler said went, but now the invasion of France has started we have been left in a terrible pickle.

"We feel the one big thing now is to get the war over, whether we win or not."

Wearing a shabby field-gray uniform caked with mud, Karl agreed the assassination attempt might be the first sign of breaking up inside Germany, as happened at the end of World War I.

"But I think it is mostly a quarrel between the high officers and the politicians," he said.

"High general staff officers are furious over the way the war is going. They believe they have been hindered and hamstrung by the politicians and they want to oust Hitler."

The prisoner declared Himmler had "better watch himself or the generals will knock him off, too."

The next prisoner I talked to was Paul ——, 22-year-old member of an elite division, who said he fought in the battle of Cherkasy on the Russian front last February and declared it was common talk the German general wanted to surrender all 11 divisions under his command to save them from being slaughtered. Hitler got wind of it and the general was quietly removed, the prisoner said.

Hans ——, 23-year-old member of a Panzer division, who hails from Berlin, declared:

LITTLE BUT COCKY

"No matter what happens it won't break up our army. We are going to win the war. I left Berlin in May when you were bombing us so terribly and Berliners were saying, 'The enemy can break down our walls but not our hearts'."

"That sounds like Goebbels," I said.

Hans, a pint-sized youth, grinned, "I'll tell you a little story. Goering once said 'If an enemy plane flies over Berlin my name is Myer.' So now everybody calls him Hermann Myer."

Hans burst into laughter. He is a deep-dyed Nazi, but today he was one of the happiest Nazis alive as he marched along a muddy Normandy road away from the war.

"Good Soldier"

The proudest title in the Army

IT CONSISTS of two simple words.

Yet every soldier who's worth his salt covets it.

This title is simply:

"Good Soldier."

It isn't just happenstance that so many women in the WAC have earned this title—the proudest in the Army.

For wherever Wacs are working, both here and overseas, there you find a job well done. And done with a spirit so gallant and fine that high Army officers everywhere say of the WAC...

"They're soldiers. Good soldiers!"

Martin Killer Search Spurred as 4 Seek Bail

Detectives intensified their search today for the actual killer of Yapran Alajajian, better known as Pepper Martin, slain gambler, as four men remained in custody under heavy bail.

The four being held face a further hearing on July 31. Their pleas to have bail lowered were denied by Judge Frankland W. L. Miles in Roxbury Court after police informed him they wanted the four available for questioning at all times.

The men held are John C. "Jack" McCarthy, former heavyweight boxer charged with being a accessory after the murder, who is under $25,000 double surety; Louise Baione of Acton st., South End, in whose car Martin's body was found; John Riley of Linden pk., night watchman at an Ipswich st. garage, and Raymond Read, garage night manager. The latter three are held in $5000 bail each as material witnesses.

A large police detail attended funeral services for the murder victim in St. James Armenian Church, Watertown, at which Martin's mother, Mrs. Gadarig Alajajian, of Mt. Auburn st., Watertown, and his sister, Mrs. Anna Caluseian, of Bowker st., Waltham, were overcome with grief and fainted.

Burial was in Ridgelawn Cemetery, Watertown.

One floral tribut was a huge horseshoe, valued at $225, inscribed: "From the Boys."

N. E. Troops Enjoy 'Hedgerow Hotel'

By HAL BOYLE

AN ADVANCED FOXHOLE SOCIAL CLUB IN FRANCE, July 11 (delayed) (AP)—The first social center for America's dugout population in Normandy is known as "Hedgerow Hotel" to American soldiers. It's a 200-year-old chateau that was within a half-mile of the battlefield when it was opened last month.

And it has a real live countess as hostess.

She and her six children—one son and five girls ranging from 10 to 20—have opened their shell-battered home to any tired, homesick American along the front.

Whenever the troops can get back, they drop in to wash up, have a cup of coffee, doze and listen to a wheezy hand-wound gramophone.

Formerly a lounge salon, the clubroom has a few games, magazines, books, chairs, an alcove washroom and a desk. At the entrance is a clever drawing of a sergeant with his feet on a table. Beneath it is a sign: "Please make yourself at home." It was made by Jacqueline, 19, who helps her mother serve the soldiers.

"Before you came I was forced one night to billet 150 Germans here," the countess said. "I knew they would steal if I did not watch them, so I decided to stay up all night. About 2 a. m. one asked me if I never slept. I told him, 'I never sleep when Germans are in my house.'"

"Your soldiers are very agreeable and behave very well," said Jacqueline.

Many officers have helped find supplies for the clubroom. The Countess impoverished herself under the Vichy regime, selling art treasures and furnishings to educate her children. She doesn't know how she will finance the war damage to her home.

Two medics—T-4 Dan Hanenberg, Clifton, N. J., and Pvt. Nelson Loyd, Seymour, Ind.—were paying their first visit to the chateau.

"We heard about this place all along the battlefront," said Hanenberg.

In a corner Pvt. John J. Sladish, Ithaca, N. Y., an anti-aircraft gunner, was writing a letter.

Other men from the same AA unit were: Cpl. John DeSavage, Worcester, Cpl. Gerald Couture, Lewiston, Me., PFC. Jose Molina, Denis, Tex., and Pvt. Harold E. Morrison, Whitman.

Bishop Anderson Dies on Cape at 84

BUZZARDS BAY, July 22 (AP)—Bishop William F. Anderson, 84, retired, of the Boston area of the Methodist Episcopal Church, died of a heart attack today at his summer home.

The clergyman underwent an operation a month ago at the Methodist Hospital in Brooklyn, N. Y., and appeared to have recovered.

A native of Morgantown, W. Va., Bishop Anderson become interested in education at an early age and at one time served as acting president of Boston University.

He retired from the ministry in 1932 after serving as resident bishop of Boston for eight years.

Whalom Park Blaze Probed

LEOMINSTER, July 22—A spectacular three-alarm fire of suspicious origin today swept through nine buildings at Whalom Amusement Park today causing damage estimated at $50,000 by Henry G. Bowen, president of the amusement company.

Fire Chief Charles Hutchinson of Lunenberg notified State Fire Marshal Edward H. Whittemore of the disastrous fire and an investigation was begun.

The blaze, believed to have started in the bowling alleys, was visible for miles and was roaring when firemen arrived from Leominster, Lunenburg and Fitchburg.

Falling live wires handicapped the fire fighters. The six bowling alleys were destroyed, but the dance hall and roller coaster were spared.

Gen. Ike Sends Gift, Note to Medford Boy

Young Joe Mason is not only the proudest kid in America today—he's one of the beggest-hearted fellows in the whole wide world.

Joe, who is 15 and the son of Mr. and Mrs. William Mason of Traincroft rd., Medford, received a letter from his favorite hero, Gen. Dwight Eisenhower, enclosing a new invasion insigna, worn by those who have been through all the invasions from Africa to France.

But in all Joe's joy and excitement, his first though was of his brother Bill, 18, a private with the Infantry overseas. He took a quick look at the insigne, showed it to his folks and then sent it off to Bill in the next mail.

"I figured it ought to go to a real soldier. I've got 'General Ike's' signature," he explained.

But with a lot of persuasion he agreed to show the letter he wrote that touched the Eisenhower heart.

"Dear General, I have read a lot about you and admired you and was wondering if you were too busy, if you could send me a small souvenir. However, if it isn't possible, a note would be tops with me. I am 15 and go to Malden Catholic High School. I hope to hear from you. Waiting, Joe Mason. P. S. We buy War Bonds."

Prisoner of Japs Sues for Divorce

NEW ALBANY, Ind., July 22 (AP)—Capt. Thomas H. Hewlett, a prisoner of war since the fall of Corregidor to the Japanese has filed suit for divorce against his wife, Mrs. Martha B. Hewlett of New Albany, charging cruelty.

The suit was filed in circuit court here by an attorney who received instructions from Capt. Hewlett through the International Red Cross.

Capt. Hewlett was a surgeon before he joined the Army Medical Corps.

Paratroop Chaplain Missing Since D-Day

HOLYOKE, July 22 — Mr. and Mrs. Valentine Maternowski have been notified that their son, Capt. Ignacius Maternowski, 32, Army chaplain, has been missing in action since he paratrooped into Normandy with his unit on D-Day.

Capt. Maternowski is the first casualty among 20 chaplains of the Order of Minor Conventuals, a branch of the Franciscan Order.

Hub Man Bailed In Brother Row

Climaxing a family quarrel of long standing, Joseph Fuller, 48, of Calumet st., Roxbury, was freed in $500 bail at Salem jail today in the aftermath to a six-month sentence meted in Lynn District Court on charges of making threats.

Fuller was found guilty by Judge William E. Fay on complaint of his brother, James Fuller, Salem newspaper editor, in strife that followed the sudden deaths at Peabody of their sisters, Beatrice and Celia.

Angry because his sisters had been buried without his being notified, Joseph heaped brotherly wrath on James over the telephone and at the latter's Marblehead home, according to testimony in court.

The sisters died two months ago and the argument continued steadily, since shortly after the double funeral, according to authorities.

Fuller, who appealed the finding of Judge Fay, faces trial at the September sitting of superior court at Salem.

Ace Maj. Goodson Prisoner of Nazis

TORONTO, July 22 (AP)—Maj. James Goodson, 23, one of the ranking aces of the United States Army Air Forces with 30 German planes to his credit, is a prisoner of war, it was disclosed in a telegram received from Washington by his mother, Mrs. Gertrude Goodson.

He had been reported missing in the European theater 10 days ago.

CAP Fliers Open N. H. Maneuvers

LACONIA, N. H., July 22—In the presence of high ranking military officials, more than 1500 Civil Air Patrol flyers and ground personnel today opened three-day maneuvers at the Laconia-Gilford airport.

Hundreds of CAP ships, some of them coming from as far away as Virginia, were on hand for the opening show. First event of the program was a parade, to be followed by air maneuvers.

Lt. Col. John F. Brown, New Hampshire CAP wing commander, is in charge of the meet, assisted by Capt. Jack Sibley, AAF, First Service Command, Boston, and Maj. Arthur Cheney of Concord. Lt. Jack Hislop is in charge of arrangements for visiting fliers and ground personnel, assisted by Lt. Charles Crowley and T-Sgt. Harold Piper.

Italian Prisoner Colony Now 400

The colony of former Italian prisoners of war at Camp McKay, South Boston, which once numbered 1500, has been reduced to only 400 in an aftermath of the recent riotings.

This was disclosed by U. S. Sen. Sinclair Weeks in a message to John Donovan, secretary of the South Boston Citizens Ass'n.

Weeks said the Army is doing all possible to prevent any further outbreaks and has completed a new fence 60 yards from Camp McKay enclosure so that civilians cannot fraternize with the prisoners.

He disclosed 600 prisoners are brought from Taunton during the week for work at the Boston Port of Embarkation.

Clubwomen Offer Ragweed Program

In a move to make all citizens ragweed conscious, the conservation committee of the Massachusetts State Federation of Women's Clubs today offered a six-point program to combat the menace.

The suggestions, announced by Mrs. Edmund I. Wilson of Auburndale, are: (1) eradicate the weed early in the season; (2) cut and mow along roadsides; (3) pull up by the roots in restricted areas; (4) cut and burn in the fall to reduce next year's crop; (5) used cover crops on large, infested areas; (6) encourage ragwaad elimination by city and town authorities.

"We must face the fact that ragweed is a menace to health," Mrs. Wilson said. "It is an annual problem, involving expense as well as discomfort to persons sensitive to ragweed pollen."

TShe federation urged mayors and selectmen to act now in cutting or mowing ragweed along highways and streets.

'Dime, Prayer' Bring 1700 Notes

MACON, Ga., July 22 (AP)—Seventeen hundred letters of thanks and requests have come to Macon's nationally famous "dime-and-prayer mother," Mrs. R. R. Godfrey, since he began a unique undertaking three years ago.

Most of the letters are from the approximately 7000 servicemen who have been handed tiny, neatly wrapped packages by Mrs. Godfrey. The packages contained a dime and a prayer.

On each of the prayers handed out by the Macon woman, who has two sons in the armed services, is the following quotation:

"I am praying for you to be kept safe wherever they send you. Please keep this always as a reminder to pray."

The money, Mrs. Godfrey says, is given as a "sacred token, not for the monetary value."

Holyoke Flier, 5 Others Killed

LAS VEGAS, Nev., July 22 (AP)—The burned bodies of a woman pilot and five airmen were brought here today form an isolated mountain region of southern Nevada.

Wreckage of the plane in which the six perished was found not far from the place where an airliner crashed 18 months ago taking film actress Carole Lombard and 21 others to death.

The dead, as identified by the Las Vegas air base, included S-Sgt. James F. Reagan, 22, Taylor st., Holyoke, Mass.

In the Armed Forces

The Distinguished Flying Cross has been presented to Sgt. Henri A. Boulay, Almond st., Fall River, at an Eighth AAF station in England. At the same station, the Air Medal was awarded to S-Sgt. Frank A. Miano, London st., East Boston, and to Flight Officer Frank R. Scauzillo, Nicholas st., Everett.

Officer Hasn't Seen Family for 3 Years

By HUCK FINNEGAN

INFANTRY UNIT, Northern Ireland—An Army officer doesn't have much home life. There is Lt. Col. Paul T. Carroll of 492 Providence st., Woonsocket, R. I. This quick-smiling acting colonel has spent three years in Hawaii, two years in Icland and one in Northern Ireland since he graduated from West Point in '33. He was in Iceland with the first AEF in Sept. of '41, before Pearl Harbor.

It's been three years since he saw his wife and sons, Peter, 6, and Robert, 4. They're residing in New Jersey now but his mother, Mrs. Peter C. Carroll, and sister Cora E. are in Woonsocket.

Lt. Col. Carroll, as a second classman at the U. S. Military Academy, saw Barry Wood's Harvard team defeat Army 14-13 on the Plains of West Point, had the satisfaction of managing the Kaydet eleven in his senior year when it whipped Harvard by some 45-0 margin in the stadium.

"We had Stancock, Vidal and Fields that year, a great team," Maj. Ralph I. Sasse was the coach.

LT. DOUGLAS CURTIS

LT. COL. PAUL T. CARROLL
Woonsocket

HAS BASEBALL TEAMS

Lt. Col. Carroll is a sports enthusiast, and his regiment has one of the few hard-ball teams on the island. Signs were posted all over the town proclaiming that companies A and B were meeting for the championship. "Game's tomorrow," he said, "Try to come over. I'm doing my best to keep up Woonsocket's baseball reputation. We might discover a few more Nap Lajoies, Gabby Hartnetts or Joey Connollys in the outfit."

Not in Lt. Col. Carroll's regiment but right next door is Lt. Lawrence S. Leland, 35, of 30 Francis st., Brookline. Leland admits he was a spark back home and "Ben Ellis drives me crazy with his letters, particularly when he mentions fires like the five-bagger at Frost Coal Yard. Wish I could have seen that one."

He was a pal of the late Sam (Record) McAllister, knew everybody in Boston and knows everybody in Northern Ireland. He's club officer, which means he arranges the officers' parties, scrapes up all the loose liquor in the country, calls Lady this and Lady that and brings them all over.

FUN EVERYWHERE

The other day, he saw a man on the street who looked like Dan Murphy of Dorchester. Leland stopped him, and lo and behold if the fellow wasn't Dan's cousin. Leland spent 11 mos. in Iceland and looks as if he spent the squivalent in Miami. Nothing bothers him, and he has fun everywhere he goes. He's single, has a wodowed mother at home, an older brother Gordon M. who served in the last war.

Leland has taken under his wing Lt. Douglas Curtis, 23, of 15 Lynn Fells Parkway, Melrose. Parents: Mr. and Mrs. Harry C.

UNIVERSAL PHRASE

Curtis is a clean-cut youngster who played left wing for Harold Poole's crack Melrose High hockey team, graduated from Tilton Junior College in '40 and enlisted from Hamilton College in March of '42. He won a commission at Ft. Benning, Ga., and a wife, Ann Smith of So. Carolina. He used to pal with Alex Skeehan of Newton (BC) and Johnny Prior. "Both are in the air corps in England. Look them up. They're good stories."

Down into a gopher hole called a storehouse went Leland. "Fellow down here you might know," he said. Twas Pvt. Harold T. Trafton, 35, who described himself as Regimental post exchange steward.

Trafton's wife is at 6 Bodwell st., Sanford, Me., but he worked for Albert Richards Co. (formerly Arthur E. Dorr) at 25 Commercial ave.

"Oh, it's great to meet somebody from Boston," beamed the bespectacled storekeeper who would have made it a day had not his captain called him back to a column of figures. "I'll buy you a steak at Durgin Park's and a drink at the Merry-Go-Round when I get home."

That last phrase "when I get home" is on every soldier's lips.

"Let's go over to the Public," Leland suggested. "There's a doctor over there from Boston." He was referring to Maj. Rankin A. Nebinger whose wife, the former Eleanor Campbell, lives with their three children at 23 Buchanan st., Winthrop. Nebringer himself is a Philadelphian and met his wife while she was nursing at the Pennsylvania Hospital.

IN ARMY 7 YEARS

Nebinger is 40, has been on Army duty since 1937. He went to Iceland with the original expeditionary force in September of 41 and remained there until last August. He spoke in glowing tones of the physical qualities of the unit and of the importance of Iceland's occupation, the while he punctured GI arms and soothed sore GI eyes.

"Only good fire I saw in Iceland was a Nazi plane blazing into the ocean," said Leland on the way home. "I sure would have liked to see that one at Frost's. That must have been a beauty."

Pvt. Rudolph Sculco, 20, of 14 Dayton st., Westerly, R. I., is handy with his dukes, dexterous with the dice.

"I hit the game for 100 pounds last week," said the former co-captain of Westerly High's basketball team. "Sent most of it home. No, it wasn't the first time I was lucky. Six of us went to Suffolk Downs a couple years back, went down heavy on Glen Ace which paid $189 and we split $2800."

TARZAN IS VERSATILE

Sculco wanted to know whether Joe DiMaggio or Ted Williams was the better outfielder. "You ought to see the fights that argument caused down at the pool room," he said. "We're about half way between New York and Boston, and some of the boys root for the Sox, some for the Yanks. They never did settle that DiMaggio-Williams argument." They never will.

"Ever know Tarzan Brown could fight and wrestle?" he asked. "Yeh, and swim, too. "Every carnival that came to town had either a wrestler or a boxer who'd give 10 bucks to any native who'd lick him. Tarzan got plenty of those 10's. Took some lickings, too, but he was game.

"Dive? He was a wonder. I've seen him dive 40 and 50 feet in the Westerly Quarry holes just to amuse the kids. Boy, if that fellow ever trained he'd have been a champion at other things beside marathoning."

Sculco has his post-war plans all set.

"I'm going to run a dance emporium in Westerly," he said. "I know Jimmy Evans, N. Y. band agent, and he'll get me Abe Lyman and other headliners. The G's will have dough and they'll be looking for a good time. I'll have a good time collecting."

Electric Shocks Given Hiccougher

LOS ANGELES, July 22 (AP)—Electrical therapy is being administered to Lawrence Schone, 31-year-old hiccoughing machinist, in "practically our last hope" to terminate the seizure, now in the 14th day, Dr. Lloyd P. Tainter announced today.

Two six-volt shocks brought sleep and temporary relief, one respite lasting three hours, and heavier shocks were planned, the doctor said.

"Previously I tried some 50 suggestions in 2000 messages from well-wishers all over the country," Dr. Tainter related. "When we tried hypnosis, Schone seemed worried about not being able to find a suitable place for his family to live."

Louis Bromfield Says:

Democrats Become Radical Labor Party

By LOUIS BROMFIELD
Author and Lecturer

CHICAGO, July 22—Perhaps the biggest issue of the whole Democratic convention that has just pressed into history was one which reecived very little attention.

It was whether the Democratic party is to espouse the principles of American democracy or to shift from its ancient position as a liberal party to that of a radical party supporting ideals of government which are foreign to everything the nation has been throughout her long and glorious past.

After 12 years of trying to appease, compromise and bribe all political elements in the nation, the time came at this convention when the party had to make up its mind.

Apparently the most powerful element in the decision was Sidney Hillman, Russian-born, New York-bred leader of the CIO Political Action Committee.

His victory stamped the Democratic party as a radical labor party, and the decision left out in the cold several millions of registered Democratic voters—farmers, small businessmen, industrialists anl a large group of professional people.

ADOPTING GERMAN IDEAS

If the "Democratic" party wins in November it means that, unless Congress defends American principles of democracy, we shall continue down the long disastrous road of regimentation, centralization and bureaucracy.

We shall live for a time at least, until the revolt comes, under a regime based upon ideas that came straight from Germany, for it was in Germany that Socialism, Communism, Fascism and Naziism all were born.

All these doctrines are founded upon the idea that the state must dominate the individual, control his earnings, limit his freedom, tax him to pay for millions of bureaucratic employes who spend their lives checking questionnaires, formulas and government payments.

Much of the confusion, the extravagance, the humbuggery of the past 12 years came from the fact that we have been neither a Democratic nor a Communist nation, but a preposterous muddle of the two.

The two principles of government—Democratic and Communist—are irreconcilable.

No compromise, no patching up is possible without the kind of injustice, confusion, fears and humbuggery the American people have experienced during the period of the New Deal.

CAN'T BE ALL TO ALL

No government, no individual can go on being all things to all people indefinitely.

Any politician, however smart, must eventually come a cropper when the circle becomes complete and everyone has been double-crossed all the way round.

It is exactly this situation which brought about the suspicions, the double-crossing, the confusion, the bitterness, that marked the Democratic convention.

For nearly 12 years the long-suffering American people have been subjected to every kind of social, political and economic experiment.

The nation has been used as a laboratory in which professors, crackpots, theorists of every kind could use the people as subjects for experiment while the people paid for the costs out of their own taxes.

Too many of the experiments were based upon foreign ideas imported into America out of the oppression and sickness of a decadent Europe and brought here often enough by the very foreigners who came to America because this nation was, under the Democratic system, the freest, happiest, richest nation on earth.

JEFFERSON'S WORDS

The time has come when these issues are no longer unclear. The nation must decide whether it shall live under a government which is the servant of its citizens or one which reduces its citizens to the level of slaves, without even human dignity.

It is a simple enough choice.

In Europe there exist examples of Fascism, Nazism and Communism. They speak for themselves.

It does not seem posible that Americans would with their eyes open choose the conditions of Germany, Italy or even Russia.

The Democratic party made its choice at this convention, and several million members of the Democratic party have been left with nowhere to go.

The final decision as regards the nation will come in November.

Thomas Jefferson once said:

"The sum total of the common sense of the common people is the greatest and soundest force on earth."

Such a force is sometimes slow to operate, but few people who honestly believe in democracy doubt its final action and efficacy.

A bureaucracy, an oligarchy, little groups of willful, unscrupulous men, can steal the liberties and decency of a people quite as effectively as any tyrant. The process is a little less obvious but perhaps all the more dangerous. It happens before you understand how it has come about.

Edward Brinkman, 3, holds the hand of Billy Keough, 2, who was rescued by his mother when flames, starting in a rubbish pile, swept their Union ave., Jamaica Plain home today, causing damage of $2500. Little Edward's mother rushed into the burning house in the belief her son was in the building; unable to find him, she made her way out and found he had been playing outside.

Parents Jailed For Beating Girl

PROVIDENCE, July 22—Charged with the brutal razor strop thrashing of their little 5-year-old adopted daughter, a father and mother were sentenced to a year in jail in district court today and fined $500 each.

The parents are Mr. and Mrs. Joseph H. Breard of Wendell st. Their little daughter, Rita, is now under a physician's care at the home of the local Society for Prevention of Cruelty to Children.

The girl, according to the parents, had been beaten and then strapped to her crib for stealing a loaf of bread from the kitchen.

The child was bruised from head to foot, her face swollen and discolored and her left foot was fractured, it was testified.

Rita is the adopted daughter of Breard, a machinist.

The penalty against the couple, which is the maximum under Rhode Island law, was imposed by Judge Luigi De Pasquale, after they pleaded not guilty.

Patrolman Facing Trial Board Resigns

Patrolman Michael F. McDonough of the Roxbury Crossing station, facing hearing by a police trial board after the Suffolk County Grand Jury refused to indict him on complaints brought by a Roxbury Negress, resigned today from the police department. Commr Thomas F. Sullivan said the resignation would become effective at 5:45 p. m.

Wife Tiff Leads To Theft Charge

George Brown, 32, of Fifth st., Chelsea, was held in $2000 bail today after he pleaded not guilty in Chelsea District Court to larceny charges lodged as a result of a quarrel with his wife. Judge Frank D. Crowley set next Thursday as a hearing date.

Lt. Insp. John J. Kirby told the court Brown came to Chelsea police headquarters to report family trouble, saying he knew his wife was coming to them anyway. Just then the irate wife walked in and after a short discussion the defendant was charged with larceny of $200 worth of jewelry.

Police charge the jewelry, allegedly found in Brown's home, is part of thousands of dollars worth of loot stolen from the firm where Brown is employed.

Kirby said police also are seeking two other men in connection with the South Station thefts, one a resident of East Boston, the other from Everett.

Order Mental Test For Father of Four

A Newton father of four children today was committed to the Psychopathic Hospital in a Newton court hearing on the complaints of parents he had subjected three young girls to indignities.

Judge W. Lloyd Allen ordered a 10-day observation for Leo P. Eustis, 40, of Cherry st., West Newton, who was charged with assault and battery and being a lewd person.

2-Alarm $10,000 Fire Set by Boys

A runaway grass fire started by youngsters playing in a nearby lot today destroyed a wooden storage shed in the Shetland st., Roxbury, yards of Eastern Fuel Co., causing damage estimated at $10,000.

Two alarms were sounded because of the fire's proximity to other storage sheds.

Firemen fought a stubborn 60-minute battle to save the major portion of 800 tons of coal stored in the burning building.

J. L. Maher, manager of the firm, discovered the fire while he was working alone in the office. He told police the boys started a grass fire which spread rapidly and ignited the shed foundation.

DOES YOUR CHURCH, LODGE, OR SOCIETY

WANT TO RAISE MONEY?

How many times have you had to say, "We'd like to do that but our organization just hasn't got the ready cash." Here's one of the easiest ways of raising money—and at the same time of patriotically serving your country—save waste paper!

Waste paper can add to your income. You won't have to increase dues or fees. Just sell enough waste paper to your own local dealers at standard market prices.

At the same time you'll be helping to win the war. Remember this year we need 2,000,000 extra tons of waste paper.

Paper makes ammunition cases, helmet linings, flares, supply parachutes, and blood plasma containers. Our boys in uniform need the waste paper which you can collect for them.

Have every member of your organization bring a bundle of waste paper to your next meeting : : : Save waste paper, sell it; and help to shorten the war.

Dewey and Europe

By BENJAMIN De CASSERES

ONE outstanding reason why Thomas E. Dewey should recommend himself to all United States Americans for President is that Europe doesn't like him.

Dewey is, in fact, too thoroughly national in spirit to ever satisfy our Allies, England, Russia and De Gaulle's France.

Pravda, of Moscow, the official world-organ of revolutionary international Communism, has just published a blast aimed at the recent Republican Convention—and therefore at Governor Dewey—in which it says:

"The foreign policy plank of the convention is a step backward compared to the decisions of the Mackinac meeting, which constituted a plain compromise between isolationists and anti-isolationists.

"Republican leaders, in effect, isolated the Willkie opposition group. The convention was led by old reactionary Republican leaders."

How dared the Republican Party of the U. S. A. refuse to consult Pravda and the Kremlin's head blouse before adopting an "international policy" plank!

It is also somewhat side-splitting to have Soviet Russia accuse us of being "isolationists"—which we have never been, seeing that we have been an international doormat, financially and otherwise, for at least 30 years.

SOVIET RUSSIA is herself the most "isolated" of all countries, as, for example:

1—No one can leave Russia except by special permission.

2—Russia does not allow any money to go out of the country.

3—All foreign visitors are "tailed" from the moment they enter Russia until they leave.

Even Ambassador Joseph E. Davies' "Mission to Moscow" admitted that.

4—Russia has not even allowed military observers of her good friends, Roosevelt and Churchill, with her fighting lines.

Dewey and the Republican platform promise "international co-operation."

We cannot expect that from Soviet Russia, for she has told us that she is not going to co-operate with us when it comes to gobbling up what she wants of Europe.

So when Soviet Russia accuses the Republican Party of being "reactionary" or "isolationists" we reply:

"Look in a mirror if you want to see the No. 1 isolationist and reactionary."

WE KNOW that England and the big London dailies do not like Dewey.

Official England has gone about as far as she has dared in telling us to elect candidate Roosevelt.

And as for France, did you note, folks, that when Gen. De Gaulle was here he did not show the slightest desire to meet Governor Dewey, candidate for President of the United States?

In the United States itself there isn't a Europeanized political faction, clique or "lunatic fringe" that is not opposed to Governor Dewey.

The most completely alien-minded of these parties or cliques—the pro-Roosevelt-Browder Communist political association—is the farthest removed from Governor Dewey.

All of which adds up to this in the minds of real, national, traditional Americans:

Dewey and Bricker are candidates on an ALL-AMERICAN ticket.

That they are not liked by Red Russia, the London dailies, by Gen. De Gaulle, by New Deal Reds and other enemies of our American institutions ought to insure their election.

For it is pretty certain that what Europe does not like about America is GOOD FOR US.

CHICAGO, July 22—I had listened to so much unintelligible guff while covering the Democratic National Convention that I was thinking of selling my ears. But something happened that decided me to keep them.

It was a beautiful, wonderful remark—one of those precious gems you hear only a few times in the span from the cradle to the grave. It consisted of one sentence, but it seemed to encompass the whole vast picture of whither are we drifting.

It was relayed to me by Mr John McNulty, the well-known writer and lecturer. Mr. McNulty's lectures, in case you have never had the inestimable privilege of listening to one, consist of coldly logical orations on why man can never outguess a racehorse.

While on his way to Chicago, Mr. McNulty sat behind three gentlemen whose conversation revealed they were in the stuffed doll game. They were discussing trends.

After a while one fell silent. The other two kept on talking. Finally the first—who had obviously been wrestling with a deep problem—broke his silence.

"Tell me," he said, "do you think we'll ever see a good one-dollar doll again?"

THIS NEXT PIECE was told to me as a funny item. But I don't think it is. I think it is pretty poignant.

Maybe I feel this way because I've got a dog. Oh, the devil with introspection—I'll just tell it and you can see how it strikes you yourself.

The information comes from the Women's Division of the Democratic National Committee.

The committee wished to get some human interest publicity about the women delegates, of whom there were in excess of 500. So it sent them a questionnaire. One of the queries was:

"Are any members of your family in the armed services?"

This was the answer turned in by Mrs. Carrie M. Pace of Johnson City, Tenn., delegate from her State's First District:

"No — except a Doberman Pinscher dog. He was raised in my kennels and given to the Marine Corps.

"He was in the first platoon of dogs used in this war in actual combat. He was in the invasion of Bougainville and was cited by the commandant for outstanding performance!"

I DID NOT SEE this reported anywhere, but I think it is significant.

The Democrats opened their conclave with a rendition of the "Star Spangled Banner." A personable young crooner named Don Regan did the rendering.

Mr. Regan rocked, swayed, and performed all the approved crooning gyrations. It was obvious, however, that he was dealing with an unfamiliar number.

He had the words to the song written on a card—and he had to refer to the card every couple of bars!

JAMES A. FARLEY, Jr., 16-year-old son of a former Postmaster General of the same name, was induced to write a piece for a news service on the convention.

Young Mr. Farley, a student at Canterbury School, in New Milford, Ct., knocked off a very trenchant article. He concluded it with:

"And I am glad to say that I am not running for Vice-President."

Up to the moment of writing this, young Mr. Farley had received no fan mail—But his father had. Farley pere got this letter from New York:

"It is too bad you haven't as much sense as your son."

THE ISSUANCE of press credentials for the convention was in the hands of Mr. Bill Donaldson and Col. Harold Beckley, superintendents of the House and Senate press galleries, respectively.

Donaldson and Beckley are very hospitable men. Among guests they entertained the other evening was a lady delegate from Tennessee.

This lady said she had gone through a quite unnerving experience just before coming to Chicago. It seems the sheriff of her county is a very enterprising gentleman and has a profitable side industry—distilling moonshine corn whisky.

Two mornings before her departure for Chicago the lady went out to bring in the milk and discovered her front porch crammed with gallon jugs of moonshine.

Feminine intuition led her to call the sheriff. He apologized for littering her porch, but added:

"I had to do it. They were hot after me!"

The lady told Beckley and Donaldson that she was quite put out with the sheriff.

"He should never have put it on my front porch," she said. "Why, he might have had me churched!"

Her auditors expressed bewilderment.

"Churched?" they exclaimed. "What do you mean by 'churched?'"

The lady said she was surprised at their ignorance.

"Churched," she said, "means churched. It means he might have had me thrown out of the church!"

Ah, how sweet it is to love!
Ah, how gay is young desire!
And what pleasing pains we prove
When we first approach love's fire!
Pains of love be sweeter far
Than all other pleasures are.
—DRYDEN.

STRIKES ME MR. DRYDEN'S observation, as above, is distinctly based on the feminine viewpoint of that thing called love. A man wants the course of true love to run smoothly. He has his business to take care of. A woman prefers to be what she calls "madly in love." She wants to suffer a little. She even enjoys in her own peculiar way a broken heart. Gives her a chance to dramatize herself to write sad poetry and weep when torch songs are sung.

"WHY DOES THE SKIN age from the throat line up and remain the same on the body?" Garland Dee Runnels asked himself that question and then pondered it from a purely commercial standpoint. Result was he went into the cosmetics business and made a fortune. If I am ever going to get that ranch and my stable of thoroughbreds I will have to make a fortune. I must get myself a question to ponder. I think in my spare time I will ponder on: "Why does a man's head grow bald and not his chin?"

PLEASE NOTE: In World War I the last men to join the U. S. Army were the first out after the Armistice. It is not going to be that way this time. The last in will be the last out. They will form the Armies of Occupation and do patrol duty. In World War I the last U. S. troops in the Army of Occupation left Germany in January, 1923, a little over four years after the Armistice. It is expected in this war that when the German part ends about 3,000,000 members of the Armed Forces will be immediately discharged. However, most of the men in the U. S. Navy and U. S. Marines will remain in uniform until both wars end.

SIDELIGHTS: For instance, take beets. Why do they serve them sliced? The way to serve beets is whole. I like hot beets, but I can hardly stand to even look at a beet salad . . . The fastest walker in the United States Army is not in the infantry. He is Sgt. Jack Powell of the Air Force, who has walked a half mile in three minutes and two seconds . . . Just read an article on "Famous Practical Jokers of Manhattan." The writer must be a Johnny-come-lately because he left out the greatest New York practical joker of all, namely Brian G. Hughes. This Hughes once entered a street car horse in the National Horse Show and had the animal so dolled up he won a blue ribbon. The name Hughes gave the horse was a tip-off, but this escaped the judges. He called it Puldeka Orphan (pulled a car often).

HONOR SYSTEM: Speaking of an "honor system" restaurant where the customer takes what food he wants and then tells the cashier the amount of the check, a writer says: "Fewer than one per cent of the patrons try to cheat the restaurant." How does the restaurant know what percentage of patrons try to cheat unless it employs spotters? And if it employs spies it can hardly be called an "honor system" restaurant.

QUERY: One group of workers recently went on strike because they couldn't have 15 minutes off to drink coffee in the afternoon. Another group recently walked out because they were asked to wear neckties while serving the public in ticket offices. If workers will strike for trivial matters like that in time of war what will the labor situation be like in times of peace?

HOLLYWOOD, July 22 — Jeanette MacDonald's absence from all social activities this summer is explained. She opens in the Los Angeles Civic Opera Co. in November and she has been studying hard with Lotta Lehman and her teacher of many years, Grace Adele Newell, to prepare herself for her debut.

The contract, signed by MacDonald Maestro Faustro Cleva, calls for three performances — two of "Romeo and Juliet," and one as Marguerite in "Faust," to be sung in French.

BETTY GRABLE has hardly left her baby since she came home. "I'm so glad to be back in my home in California," she said, "I could kiss the ground. It's perfect to have Harry here and to be with Victoria Elizabeth." From that you gather the Harry Jameses are very much in love. She is getting ready for "Diamond Horseshoe," which goes before the cameras Aug. 14. Bill Marshall, who is under contract to 20th Century-Fox and who received recently his medical discharge from the Army, gets his opportunity playing opposite the pin-up girl. Bill is married to Michele Morgan and is not only a good looker but a nice guy.

HEADING FOR HOLLYWOOD and the William Goetz Studio as fast as the train can carry him is one William Johnson, six feet two. Young Johnson was here before, taken right from Ethel Merman's show, "Something for the Boys," on an M-G-M contract. But before he ever faced a camera a radio job sent him back to New York and his success with the microphone made him forget movies. Now he's got the movie bug again and he'll play opposite Sonja Henie in "It's a Pleasure" in his introduction to motion pictures.

BETTE DAVIS' generosity to other players and the absence of all jealousy in her makeup is one of the reasons her success has gone on year after year. When Eleanor Parker walked on the "Of Human Bondage" set she found a huge bouquet of gardenias with the following note: "With these flowers is my sincere hope that 'Mildred' will do for you what she did for me. I am sure she will in your capable hands. Sincerely, Bette Davis." That's what I call a nice gesture.

NEW YORK, July 22—Errol Flynn, in the past year, has not only provided the comedians with new gag files, but the columnists with items and the editors with headlines, so it seems only fair to give him a crack at the typewriter on his own. These, he says, are his thoughts while sitting on the set . . . D. K.

ERROL FLYNN SAYS:

Wonder why assistant directors always have mustaches. Haven't made a costume picture in a long time—would feel good to pull on a pair of tights and wave a sword again . . . It's funny that cartoons always show dressing rooms with gold stars on the door. Have yet to see that kind, although I once found a summons pinned on mine.

Why do Hollywoodites wear dark glasses in dimly lit night clubs? Sometimes I feel like greeting a character with "Glad to almost see you" . . . Wish more kids could visit the set. There is always some humor when they're around. Who was it said, "At all costs have fun. Live without love if you must—but never without laughter!" . . . Well, if no one said it, they should have.

IF ONLY, ah, if only I could find that title for my new book! Everybody on the set suggesting titles, but have to give each one the sad shake of the head . . . Star Shine By Sidney Skolsky

HOLLYWOOD, July 22—Bonita Granville is now getting whistles and offers.

The offers are for sexy roles in pictures portraying the kind of a girl fellows go for, and the whistles are from practically everyone. She has what it takes to get the wolf call.

Bonita Granville

Bonita is five feet two inches tall, weighs 105 pounds, has blue eyes, blonde hair, and bathing suits suit her. She's stacked.

She hails from New York City, the date being Feb. 2, 1923. Her father was the well known actor, Bunny Granville, and her mother is Rosina Timponi, who was a dancer known as Tim Poni. She got her start in pictures because she looked the way a director thought Ann Harding must have looked as a child.

★ ★ ★

SHE RESIDES in a small house in the Toluca Lake district with her mother and her secretary, Burma Brokaw. They do most of the housework. She is a fair cook. What more do you fellas want?

When waiting on the set to play a scene, she generally knits. She makes many sweaters and some of them are for her. She's a sweater girl who furnishes everything.

She is a fairly good pianist, and despite her association with the jive set, she plays classical music. She claims she is a good singer and wants a chance to sing in pictures. She goes to the Hollywood Canteen every Monday and sings for the G. I.'s. They like it.

Her favorite food is "white" spaghetti. This is spaghetti with butter and cheese. She can't resist a hot, juicy steak, when she can get it. She has to watch her weight.

★ ★ ★

SHE ADORES clothes. If she likes a dress, she has it made in various colors. Blue is her favorite color. She wears only French high heels, except with slacks. She has her bra's made especially for her.

She is very neat. Everything has its place.

She sleeps without a pillow. She keeps the windows open, and she likes to sleep with the wind blowing on her. She sleeps in pajamas, but never a nightgown.

She is romantic and is looking for romance. She says it was not a thing with George Raft; that he was merely giving her advice. She is free lancing, or in plain words, fellows, she's looking for a fellow.

EXCLUSIVE: Any hour now an announcement should come that peace has been achieved between James Caesar Petrillo, boss of the musicians' union, and the record-making companies . . . Petrillo has been successful in enforcing an edict which prohibited his minions from making disc transcriptions for nearly two years . . . Even appeals to his sense of patriotism, on the grounds that his fiat was preventing our soldiers and sailors from hearing their favorite bandsmen in their favorite tunes, were fruitless.

PETRILLO'S chief opponents have been the two largest broadcasting chains . . These systems are the controlling factions of the record business . . Considerable "bootlegging" of records has been going on, and the charges have been made that "name" bandleaders have directed their orchestras under pseudonyms to beat the ban . . . But the Petrillo restriction has been effective, in the main . . . The conferences aimed at breaking the deadlock have been held lately on a night-and-day basis, and the feudists are on the verge of agreement.

Dick Himber, the bandleader, has been bitten by the theatrical bug . . . He intends to produce a show about magic, set to music . . . One hitch in the proceedings is Orson Welles' desire to remain in California until an heir or heiress arrives at the bungalow occupied by him and his wife, Rita Hayworth.

HIMBER WANTS Welles to direct . . . Another complication is Dick's insistence that he be permitted to hire his own favorite press-agent, Milton Rubin . . . Mr. Rubin is not a member of the theatrical press agent's union, and the limited membership of that organization makes it unlikely that he can join immediately.

THE SUMMER has brought forth an unexpected development in the nightclub situation . . . Shangri-la, Tommy Maren's beautiful oasis in Boylston st., has streaked to the front in a burst of popularity which has amazed the insiders along the Rialto . . . The success is due in great part to the Maren idea that excellent food and an elaborate menu will add to the fun of having a few drinks in a cocktail lounge, which Shangri-la — since its change-over — really is . . . Bostonians will remember that the spot until April 1 offered floor-shows with star attractions . . . When business dropped to nothing in all the first-class nightclubs after the 30 per cent tax became effective, Tommy decided on the cocktail lounge policy.

MRS. ADRIAN O'KEEFE, the lovely young mother of three children, can be excused a few smiles this week-end . . . And Mrs. Marianne Barber, her chum, can be praised for a deep sense of humor . . . The two friends were seated with Marianne's husband, Payton Barber, when Boxing Commissioner Dez Wadsworth strolled up to the table . . . The commissioner had one question to ask of Mrs. Barber . . . "Tell me, Marianne!" he demanded, "If that good-looking little girl at the table is your daughter?" The commish was very serious, and not deliberately ungallant . . . The reason that the item deserves a few lines of space is that Mrs. Barber, with a wide smile, told the story . . . It should be added that she and Mrs. O'Keefe might be taken for sisters—of about the same age.

Trim, Slim Legs and Ankles for All

Beauty

By RUTH MUGGLEBEE

THERE IS MORE TO BEAUTY than being gowned smartly . . . coiffeured in top style . . . and made up to facial perfection. You may be able to strut like a peacock . . . but have you ever noticed a peacock's feet and legs? They're ugly, huge, pigeon-toed, even knock-need. They're nature's ludicrous touch to an otherwise gorgeous chassis. Fortunately for the peacock . . . his ego is so blatant . . . his chest stuck out so far . . . that he never sees his feet and legs. Some gals may be likened to the peacock . . . for all they believe in is gorgeousness of gown, hair and make-up.

But there is more to beauty than this. An ugly gesture can make an impression no amount of beautiful clothes can erase. A peculiar walk . . . unsightly posture . . . can make hideous a gorgeous figure. Heavy legs and heavy ankles can ruin the grace and charm of a lovely personality.

Every gal's pedal extremities can be trim and slim with proper exercise and massage.

When sitting . . . it is not advisable to cross the legs at the knees unless you have beautiful legs. It would be more graceful to cross the legs at the ankles, one foot slightly ahead of the other. Sit in front of a mirror and try your legs and feet in different positions . . . and you will quickly see which are the most graceful. If you feel impelled to cross your legs at the knees . . . have the top leg well over the lower . . . and gracefully at the side . . . to give a good line . . . one in which the foot does not extend straight out.

EXERCISES FOR EARLY IN THE MORNING

First thing in the morning . . . loosen the muscles of the body by flexing the fingers, neck, shoulders, arms and legs. Stand facing a wall . . . push with both hands against the wall . . . stretch one leg back and stand with your weight on the other leg. Then reverse the position.

Exercise the thighs by moving from the waist in a circular motion . . . bending to right and left as far as you can. Massaging the legs and ankles will trim them down.

SHE WALKS IN BEAUTY who has trim, slim legs and ankles . . . to move gracefully and rhythmically along life's highways. Don't sway the hips when you walk . . . keep the feet close together as if there was a lift in the shoes. Exercise and massage of the pedal extremities will help any girl achieve the enviable gams and feet of lovely RKO Starlet Gloria de Haven.

Mrs. Pierce Pearmain Cape Hostess

MRS. PIERCE PEARMAIN of Cambridge, with her daughter, Mrs. William Brooks Clift, Jr., and son, Pierce Pearmain, added to the gaiety of the week at Oyster Harbors by giving an informal cocktail party in their picturesque cottage overlooking Nantucket Sound.

Guests included a number of friends from the colony and Oyster Harbors Club, Mrs. V. Cutler Barnes of Gloucester and Bristol, R. I., with her mother, Mrs. Bernard J. Hogue; Mr. and Mrs. Zenas Crocker, Jr., Mrs. Marshall Fabyan, Jr., Bill Shedden, Jr., of Concord, Raymond Bidwell and son David of Weston and Oyster Harbors; Howard Connor and Daniel J. Lyne, Jr.

OVAL ROOM DANCERS

Celebrating her fiance's brief furlough, post deb Grace Reed of Dedham was radiant in a black tunic dress with inset band of peacock blue at the waist as she danced with her future bridegroom, J. Carter Inches, USA, of Hamilton, in the Copley Plaza Oval Room.

Sub-deb Sallie Favorite was adorable in a tropic spice and cream flowered print as she and Harris Clay applauded Bernice Parks. Others enjoying a merry Oval Room evening were Mr. and Mrs. Ralph C. Harvey of Wellesley with their daughter Jane (Mrs. Bradford Jealous) who is just back from visiting her serviceman husband in the West. Jane was modish in pistachio linen which had big white daisies embroidered at the oval neckline and her attractive mother chose a black and white domino print with a diamond bow knot pin at the neckline.

Mrs. J. Brittain Ragsdale, recently returned from a visit with her in-laws in Alabama, dined with friends and wore a sophisticated black linen suit with pleated white organdie dickey. And beauteous Elinor Taber, whose date was George W. Hemstead, USNR, of Harvard Medical School, chose a multi-colored carnation print and carried a cute black grosgrain purse made like a miniature hatbox.

THEY'RE CHAMPS

Two Hub society girls, debutante Barbara Graham of Wellesley, and sub-deb Shirley Ellis of Belmont, are this week's waltzing and sailing champs at Wianno.

Barbara and her partner, Oscar Bush, won the "champagne waltz" at the weekly dinner dance in the Wianno Club ballroom and Shirley sailed her boat, Three Cheers, home ahead of the fleet in the longest race of the season from the Wianno Yacht Club.

The U. Haskel Crockers of Milton and children, Elizabeth, Eleanor and Robert, have arrived at the club for the rest of the season.

Fashion

SUN-BACKED DRESSES are here to stay . . . and this bright yellow chintz . . . splashed with flowers . . . and styled with a fitted bodice and full skirt . . . is one of the most girlish and attractive we've seen in a long while. The shoulder straps . . . edged with Irish crochet lace . . . are fetching details of the model . . . so charmingly displayed by Warner starlet Joyce Reynolds. —R. M.

My Day

By Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt

HYDE PARK, Friday—I reached home today, having had two unofficial days at the end of our trip in which I saw our youngest son's wife and their two children. I was also lucky enough to catch our eldest son in port and see him and his wife. Then, in another city on the way home, I saw a number of friends before taking the plane which brought us to New York City.

Our youngest son, far away in the Pacific, has been writing me that he is afraid his little girl will be quite changed when he gets home again, which is the way hundreds and thousands of young men write to their mothers and wives about their children who are growing up while they are away.

However, this baby granddaughter is such a distinct little personality, I think even if she changes physically she will always retain a certain something which will be a reminder of the little person that she is today—dainty, like a Dresden China figure, but nevertheless strong enough not to be dominated by a brother more than two years older.

* * *

I KEEP thinking, as I see all these young men in uniform, of one of the great problems which is going to face this nation after the war.

For several years they have faced death many times over, living in constant proximity to danger. They have been heroes. Life at home, after the first happy reunion, will lack some flavor which was present when they were comrades in arms in a great adventure.

What can we give these boys? A vision of personal service in the great adventure of daily living, which will give them again the feeling of being comrades in arms in something quite as important as winning the war?

It is easy to talk about the responsibilities of citizenship in a democracy, and about the extraordinary adventure of the world of the future, in which they may take part. Few people can see the vision, obscured as it will be by their daily humdrum lives, and yet it is a great adventure.

If all of this potential strength which will have won the war, can be harnessed to win the peace, what great things each community can accomplish? The riches of a nation are its people, but they must have a vision of what they can accomplish.

Delicious Cherry Treats

By MARTHA LEE

BLUSHING CHERRIES are in the fruit markets—plump bing cherries, and juicy pie cherries. To food shoppers their red gloss is subtle hint of the luscious flavor and good eating to follow.

Cherry Baskets are especially inviting as a special occasion dessert. With a versatile pastry dough at her command, the clever homemaker cuts out exquisite baskets to carry the tart cherry filling.

CHERRY BASKETS

PASTRY DOUGH

2 cups sifted enriched flour
1 tsp. salt
2-3 cup shortening
3 to 5 tbsp. cold water

Sift together flour and salt. Cut or rub in shortening. Add water. Mix into a dry crumbly dough. Toss on floured pastry cloth. Roll and fold until smooth. Roll about ⅛ inch thick. With 3-inch biscuit cutter, cut pastry dough. Place one pastry round on bottom of each 3-inch muffin cup. Line sides of muffin cup by overlapping 5 pastry rounds around each muffin cup, setting the rounds on edge. Press edges of pastry on sides firmly to edges of pastry on bottom. Prick with fork. Bake in hot oven (450 deg. F.) 8 to 10 minutes. Cool. Fill with cherry filling.

CHERRY FILLING

¾ cup sugar ½ tsp. salt
2 tbsp. cornstarch
1½ cups cherry juice or water

Cherry Baskets

1 tbsp. lemon juice
2 cups pitted cherries, fresh or canned

Mix together sugar, cornstarch and salt. Heat cherry juice or water and add sugar mixure to cherry juice, stirring constantly. Cook until clear and thickened. Fold in cherries. When cherry filling cools, fill pastry baskets. Makes enough filling for 6 baskets.

SWEET CHERRY PIE

2 cups sweet cherries
1-3 cup cherry juice or water
½ tsp. almond extract
1-3 cup granulated sugar
1-3 cup brown sugar
¼ tbsp. flour Pastry
1 tbsp. butter or margarine

Combine pitted cherries, juice, flavoring, sugar and flour. Let stand about 15 minutes while preparing pastry. Line 9-inch pie plate with pastry. Fill with cherry mixture. Dot with butter. Top with pastry and seal edges. Make slits in top for steam to escape. Bake in hot oven (450 deg. F.) 10 minutes. Reduce heat to 350 deg. F. and continue baking 30 minutes or until done.

SWEET CHERRY COBBLER

1 egg ¼ cup sugar
3 tbsp. melted shortening
1-3 cup milk 1 cup flour
2 tsp. baking powder
½ tsp. salt
3 cups sweet cherries
½ cup sugar

Beat egg until light. Add sugar gradually. Add shortening and milk. Sift and measure flour. Sift again with baking powder and salt. Add to egg mixture and and blend thoroughly. Half fill greased baking dish with sugared pitted cherries. Cover with cobbler batter. Bake in moderate oven (375 deg. F.) 30 minutes. Serve warm with cream. Makes 6 to 8 servings.

GLAMOUROUS young motherhood is represented by Dorothea Jackson, Helen Stenborg and Barbara Bell Wright in "3 Is a Family," the John Golden comedy hit. Incidentally, the Ephrons, whose stage success goes into its 12th week at the Colonial on Monday night, have just been blessed with a bundle from heaven.

Child Recovers After Losing Eye

LAWRENCE, July 22—Condition of Carol Fretwell, 4½-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas K. Fretwell, was reported as good at Lawrence General Hospital today where the child's eye was removed in an emergency operation, after she was struck by a stone which whirled through the blades of a power lawn mower.

Alderman Cornelius J. Roche, director of the city's public parks, said he was "certain that while the child was swinging at a playground near her home, a stone must have been flung through the air by the lawn mower, which was about 50 feet away.

Witnesses said the child suddenly screamed, jumped from the swing and ran home. Her parents took her to the hospital.

5th Nazi Ace Missing

LONDON, July 22 (AP)—The German radio said Capt. Karl Heinz Weber, German air ace credited with 136 kills, was missing—fifth Luftwaffe ace admitted lost in two weeks.

JVA Ragweed War Attracts Many Recruits

The Junior Victory Army's war on ragweed is gaining momentum as more and more boys and girls report that they are looking for and destroying this menace to hay fever sufferers.

One of the JVA units most active in the campaign is the "Defense and Aviation" Corps of Dorchester, members of which maintain a Victory Garden at the Florence Nightingale School. This corps, sponsored by Miss Esther E. Larson, a teacher, and commanded by Maurice Ames, has fought ragweed every year since it was organized in 1942.

Brookline children have the opportunity to increase the exceptionally outstanding record of that community's eradication of this pernicious plant.

State health authorities point to the ragweed division of the Brookline Board of Health, directed by George O. Tapley, as one of the best examples for consistent, widespread and ruthless destruction of ragweed.

Tapley divides Brookline into two sections, the congested district and the large estates and open fields. Uniformed troops of this division seek out ragweed in these divisions and destroy it with two types of cutters, a grass whip and a scythe. Scientific check there shows steady reduction in pollen counts with abatement one year reaching 99 per cent.

To join the JVA, send your name, age and full address to Junior Victory Army, Box 728, Boston, Mass. If, in addition to enlistment, you want the JVA insignia pin and membership card, enclose a 10-cent coin well wrapped in your letter.

Read the next JVA story in Sunday's Advertiser.

Mayflower Stake Tops Suffolk Final

By JACK CONWAY

They will drop the curtain on the Suffolk Downs meeting this afternoon with the $25,000 added Mayflower Stakes for two-year-olds featuring an eight race program. This has been the most important week of the East Boston track.

It is not because this was the week of the $50,000 Massachusetts Handicap which was won by the brilliant First Fiddle, or because a splendid field of two-year-olds will be sent away from the barrier by Bob Frend this afternoon. It is rather because every dollar of profit made during the six days of racing will go to war charities.

C. F. Adams

The National War Fund, Inc. has promoted this week of racing with Suffolk Downs as its agent. President Gordon B. Hanlon, Charles F. Adams, Bruce Wetmore, Charley McLennan and the other members of the Suffolk Downs racing family have worked side by side with Julius Haller of the Red Cross, Robert Frank of the United War Fund, this writer who has represented the Disabled Veterans Fund of the American-Record and Sunday Advertiser, and representatives of the other charities who will share in the profits of the racing through the community fund.

With booming betting it is expected that the various charities will share, between $225,000 and $250,000. This will be another grand contribution from horse racing. The people who operate racing are anxious to help the war charities. They also realize that any sport that only concerns itself with profits for its promoters will not get very much consideration from the returning 11,500,000 veterans.

With millions of Americans fighting on almost every battle front of the world, sports has the privilege of doing what it can to help service men and other deserving charities.

★ ★ ★

Disabled Veterans Fund

The disabled veterans fund has been proud to be associated with the Red Cross and the United War Fund in the charity week at Suffolk Downs. It feels that these great charities are doing a tremendous amount of good at this time, and that they will continue to do so in the post war period.

The efforts of those persons in charge of the disabled veterans fund have received recognition from service men everywhere. The Stars and Stripes, official newspaper of the armed forces overseas, took recognition of Russ Murray's $46,000 donation to the fund from his Raynham dog track.

I find that the donations to various war charities have come from the heart and have not been prompted by commercial reasons. In the case of Suffolk Downs and Raynham, the money set aside for war charities came from regular racing days. No attempt was made to hand the task of raising funds along to the public.

Rock Opens on Monday

Rockingham Park will open its three weeks summer meeting on Monday. Lou Smith says he will have numerous new horses at the play. New Hampshire track, while he will have others who have been racing at Suffolk Downs.

Rockingham Park has always been popular with racegoers. It occupies the same distinctive position in New England racing that Saratoga did in New York before it was obliged to remain closed on account of transportation difficulties.

Talk to the horsemen and they will tell you that their thoroughbreds run better at Rockingham Park than at any other New England track. The horses receive an opportunity to get exercise in open fields and to nibble at fresh, green grass, this improves their form.

The barns at Rockingham are filled, and as a result Racing Secretary John Turner should not have any trouble in arranging attractive races.

Following the Rockingham meeting, the thoroughbreds will once more journey to Narragansett Park. They will be back at Rockingham on Oct. 2 for the final meeting of the New England season.

The success of the Suffolk Downs meeting indicates that the Rockingham Park meeting should set new highs in the matter of attendance and mutual handle, in the matter of racing form. Lou Smith's track has always been a leader.

Sudan Enters 13 in Dilboys

Coach Clem Crowley, former New England champion, will have 13 fighters from the Sudan A. C., Dorchester battling for top honors in all seven classes of competition next Wednesday night when the George Dilboy Post, VFW, will stage the third in its series of amateur fight shows at Dilboy Field, Somerville.

The Dorchester entries will list Penny Walters and Ed Dobbins in the 118's; John Thompson and Frank McGowan in the 126's; Frank Armstrong in the 135's; Joe Duffey and Ed O'Connor in the 147's; John Mullin and Joe Hegarty in the 160's; Joe Haidul and John Minehan in the 175's and John Megnia and Al Tumas in the heavyweight division.

Entries for this floodlight program may be filed with Fred Russo, 371 Summer st., Somerville.

No Ringers, of Course

JAMESTOWN, N. Y., July 22 (AP)—Hal White, Utica, former Detroit Tiger pitcher, will play with the Utica team during the New York State tournament of the National Semi-Pro Baseball Congress to be held here tomorrow and Sunday.

Louis W. Collins, state semi-pro baseball commissioner, said he had received word White, who is stationed at Sampson Naval Training Center, had been granted weekend leave to enable him to have

Whitey Weitelman Is Still Tribe Problem

By BILL GRIMES

Between his new glasses and injured throwing hand, Bill "Whitey" Weitelmann is playing under too much of a handicap to be at the peak of his form.

When Eddie Miller was sold to the Cincinnati Reds, the Braves short stop berth was turned over to "Whitey" Wietelman. Casey Stengel made that decision and was seconded by Bob Quinn.

Stengel and Quinn, as well as the experts who had watched the boy come along, rightly rated "Whitey" as one of the best fielders in the major leagues. He could go with equal success to his left and to his right. And, he could "gun" that ball across the diamond from deep short stop. Moreover, young Wietelmann has baseball instinct. He always knows what to do when he gets the ball . . . He has the plays figured out before they come up.

However, since he joined the Braves organization at the age of 16, "Whitey" has never been able to show much promise of developing into a hitter. But, because of his remarkable defensive ability, first, Stengel and then Bob Coleman have been satisfied to trail along with "Whitey" as their short stop.

SHOULD HAVE RESTED

Before he reported at Choate School for spring training, young Wietelmann contracted an eye ailment, which now has everyone connected with the Braves worried. He has undergone operations, which removed cysts from under his left eye lid, on four occasions.

It's our personal opinion that instead of rushing back into the lineup after each operation "Whitey" should have been benched for at least a week. Before the Braves went on their first Western trip, Wietelmann had four cysts removed on a Sunday morning and then played a doubleheader that afternoon.

"Whitey's" shortstopping hasn't been up to standard this season. He admits that he loses sight of ground balls, which in the past, he would have gathered up without any difficulty. And, being the worrying type, Wietelmann "blows his top" when he licks or throws away a ball game.

BILL BURRELL THE FELLOW TO WATCH in the 100-meter free-style race for the New England A. A. U. title today at Onset Bay, Wareham.

Bill Burrell Is Made Favorite at Onset

By MIKE GILLOOLY

Servicemen Ray Millane, U. S. Navy, and Bill Burrell, U. S. Coast Guard, will be co-favorites to take over the 220-yard NEAAAU men's senior freestyle championship in the Onset Bay Chamber of Commerce Championship Swimming meet to be held tomorrow afternoon in conjunction with the Record-American - Sunday Advertiser Learn To Swin pprogram.

Only last Saturday, Burrell took over the NEAAAU 110-yard freestyle crown

The Navy will be expected to run 1-2 but there'll be plenty of opposition from the field before this crown is finally settled. Entries which just can't be ignored include Joe Baclawski and Joe Turrone, Olneyville; Bill Wentworth, South Boston; Augie Addison, Winchester S. C.; Henry Murphy, Fred Sullivan and John O'Brien of the Bunker Hill Boys Club and Joe Porata, John Masso and Ed Nesta of the Wamshuck, R. I., Club.

Battling for the NEAAAU 50-meters Junior free-style title will be a wide open affair. Competing for this crown will be Baclawski, Turrone, Mat Lojko and Arnold Evans, of Olneyville; George Waite and Ken Robinson, Brockton; Tom Butler, South Boston; Bob McGrath, Bob Wilson, Mike Gambino and Jim Quine, Winchester, and Vic Cardarelli, Sal Parisi, Fred Castartaro and Joe DiPaola of Wamshuck.

JOHN CURLEY'S GAL IN

One other title event will be included in the program with five greater Boston girls scheduled to go after the Mass. State 100-meters free-style championship. Carolyn Curley, Boston Swimming Ass'n, and daughter of John Curley, graduate manager of athletics at Boston College, will have to stave off the bids of the Winchester Swimming Club as offered by Joel Pray, Edith Dover, Barbara Donaghey and Anna Murray.

In the 100-meters backstroke and breast-stroke events for women, Clara Lamore, New England's outstanding girl swimmer from Olneyville, R. I., will be defending her laurels against prominent fields. In the backstroke, she'll have to stave off teammates Ann Franklin and Barbara Milliken and Stella Tamka and Marion Senior of the Wamshuck Club while in the breast-stroke test, she'll meet swim-mate Louise Sherlock, Miss Curley and the Misses Tamka and Senior.

There'll also be 100-meters backstroke and breast-stroke open races for men; 50-meters free-style for novice men and women, servicemen and for boys and girls 13-years and under. Opening event will get underway at 3 p. m.

Jim Bagby May Put Indians in Fight

By JACK HAND
(Associated Press Sports Writer)

Jim Bagby who once vowed he'd never pitch another game for Cleveland under Manager Lou Boudreau today stood out as the man who may boost the Tribe into the thick of the pennant scrap.

When Bagby joined the Merchant Marine after last season, he said he was thorugh with Cleveland. But after being rejected by the draft earlier in the week, the 17-game winner of '42 and '43 hustled to the Tribal wigwam and last night stopped Philadelphia with five hits as Boudreau's Indians took a 4-1 decision over Lake Hamlin to sweep the series.

While the Yankees and Browns took turns knocking one another's brains out, without disturbing St. Louis' two-game margin, Cleveland and Detroit made motions toward serious contention. The St. Louis-New York series ended yesterday when Atley Donald outpitched Al Hollingsworth for an 8-2 Yank victory and an even break.

Detroit took four straight from Washington all by one-run margins, to keep pace with Cleveland in a fourth place tie, 1½ games back of Boston and 5½ off the top. Dizzy Trout captured win No. 13 at the expense of reliefer Early Wynn of the Senators as Roger Cramer hammered home two Detroit runs and scored the other in a last of the ninth rally for a 6-5 edge.

Harry Brecheen shut out the New York Giants, 5-0, to help the Cardinals move another step toward an early flag in the National. Johnny Hopp and Ray Sanders spanked home runs at the expense of Harry Feldman and Ace Adams.

Brooklyn's long losing slump finally dumped the Dodgers into the basement, tied with Boston, after dropping a 3-2 game to Cincinnati's Ed Heusser. Woody Williams with two doubles and two singles for a perfect day helped drop Curt Davis below the .500 mark with his 6th setback.

Max Butcher boosted his win streak to five although the Phils outhit the Pirates. Franklin, Pa., three hits were a big factor in Pittsburgh's 5-3 night victory.

Pitcher Naymick Joins Rochester

ROCHESTER, N. Y., July 22 (AP)—The Rochester baseball club has announced the acquisition, on option, of Pitcher Mike Naymick from the parent club, the St. Louis Cardinals.

Naymick, six-foot eight-inch righthander who has seen little service in the National League team since his purchase this season from Cleveland of the American League, will replace Eldred (Bud) Byerly, recalled by the Cards. Byerly won three games and lost nine for the seventh-place Rochester International League Club.

Pick Princecquillo In Jamaica Feature

NEW YORK, July 22 (AP)—Carrying top weight of 120 pounds, Princequillo was favored in the nearly odds to win today's $10,000 Questionnaire Handicap at Jamaica race track.

The other entries for the mile and four furlongs race are Arrow Rock, Lord Calvert, Transformer, Eye for Eye, Sickles Choice and Moon Maiden.

Homers Lick Braves

Japhet Lynn didn't lose any time impressing "Cholly" Grimm . . . He struck out Connie Ryan and Max Macon on six pitched balls . . . Bill Nicholson, who had had trouble with Nate Andrews, Jim Tobin, Al Javery and Ira Hutchinson, greeted Ben Cardoni with a home run, his 16th of the season.

A foul ball of Lanny Merullo's bat hit an electric light bulb in the press stand but didn't have enough to break the glass.

Then came a very rare put out . . . Merullo topped one toward third base about six feet inside the line . . . Cardoni grabbed the ball and reached out and tagged Nicholson, who was trying to score . . . After striking out on his first two appearances at the bat, Ab Wright tied the count with a homer into the Cubs' bull pen with Tommy Holmes aboard.

Bill Connoy, the Red Sox catcher, who is out of the line up with a broken thumb, watched the game from the press coop with the honorable William (better known as Bill) Hoddleson . . . With Lyna, Hack and Cavaretta charging in on him, when he was trying to sacrifice Warren Hughes to second in the 7th, Ben Cardoni bore down on the pitch and bounced the ball over the Cub pitcher's head for an infield hit.

Little Dom Dallessandro finally got Ben Cardoni to serve him a pitch to his liking in the 8th and he pulled it in the Chicago bull pen for a two-run game winning homer.

Big Ben hurled a good game allowing only seven hits . . . However two of these hits were circuit clouts with a man aboard, and accounted for Cardoni's failure to chalk up his first win of the season.

Count Fleet Sent To Ky. Stud Farm

JAMAICA RACETRACK, N. Y., July 22 (AP)—After many months of futile attempts to bring Mrs. John D. Hertz, Count Fleet back to hard training and the races, trainer Don Cameron today stated that the colorful colt has been retired and will be shipped back to the Stoner Creek farm in Kentucky in about 10 days, there to be pointed for stud.

The Count was the biggest money winner of 1943 with clearings of $174,055, despite his curtailed campaign, and his total, including his juvenile earnings, stands at $250,300. He won 16 out of 21 starts and never was out of the money.
